U.N. To Vote On Pleas for 'Private' Talk

Committee Speeds Up Debate on Big Four Atomic Conferences

UNITED NATIONS, N Y. (AP)—The U.N.'s 60-nation Political Committee went into a double session today in hopes of winding up arms debate and reaching a vote on a Western call for "private" Big Four talks on atomic control and disarmament.

The committee also faces debate on a Soviet request that the U.N. Disarmament Commission submit plans by March 1 for substantial cuts in big-power armaments and a ban on the atomic and hydrogen bombs.

May Okay Conference

U.N. sources voiced optimism that Russia might support the Western proposal for a big power conference offered by Britain, France and the United States. The Soviets have backed similar proposals in the past.

The direct negotiation prosposal apparently was initiated by France's Jules Moch, who suggested Wednesday that the Disarmament Commission set up a subcommittee of powers "mainly involved in the armaments race" to try to break the logjam on disarmament and atomic weapon control.

The 12-nation commission, currently sitting in New York, has been deadlocked for months by opposing East-West views.

The resolution proposed that the commission sponsor the talks and urged the Big Four to "seek in private an acceptable solution and report to the disarmament commission."

Meetings in 1951 Futile

The Big Four held similar meetings on disarmament in Paris in 1951. Those talks lasted only 10 days without apparent results.

The current resolution, observers pointed out, is more far-reaching. In effect it transfers the task of the hamstrung commission to a Big Four subcommittee and places the responsibility in their laps.

U.N. circles saw another advantage in the fact that there would be no time limit set on the big power talks, since the subcommittee would have a more or less permanent status.

Russia's revised arms cuts proposal was seen as a slight concession. It shunts aside Russia's perennial call for a one-third reduction in the armed forces of the United States, Britain, France, Red China and the U. S. S. R.

Control Plans First

In general, however, the Russians are following the old line on armaments. They want a ban on atom and hydrogen weapons and strict international control.

The West contends the commission should work out effective control plans first and then see about a ban on mass destruction weapons.

U.N. debate continued on the boiling Palestine issue.

Morrow Judge Seeks Post on Supreme Court

Special to The Star

MT GILEAD – Morrow County Common Pleas Judge Leland Rutherford of Mt Gilead announced today he will be a candidate for the unexpired term of the late Judge Edward Mathias on the Ohio Supreme Court.

Mathias, who died last week at his home in Columbus after a fall, had served for 39 years on the State Supreme Court and for 10 years prior to that in the Common Pleas Court of his home county.

Rutherford, a Republican, will soon begin his 10th year as county common pleas judge. His present term does not expire until 1956.

If elected to the unexpired term, he would begin his new duties as soon as he is qualified after the election next November. The term continues through Dec. 31, 1956. The position is now being filled by appointment. Gov. Lausche appointed Welfare Director John Lamneck to fill the position until next November.

Judge Rutherford is widely known throughout the State. He has been called on to sit on the bench in other counties of the state which have fuller dockets than his own court.

Rutherford has held court by assignment in nearly one-third of the counties of Ohio. When first elected to the Morrow County Common Pleas Court in 1944 he was the youngest common pleas judge in the state.

If elected to the state bench Rutherford's position here as common pleas judge would be filled by appointment.

LOCOMOTIVE HAS A BIG FALL. Workmen now have the job of hauling this Western Pacific diesel locomotive up this steep bank to tracks it left at Feather River Canyon near Oroville, Calif., when the eastbound Zephyr crashed into a 300-ton rock slide. The engineer and fireman rode the engine down and were not hurt. Highway 24 can be seen at lower left.

U.S. Industry Sounded Out On Red China

State Department 'Feelers' Reported on Opening Up Trading

DETROIT (AP)—The U. S. State and Commerce departments, according to a Chrysler Corp. executive, have been sounding out industrial sentiment on this country's opening trade with Communist China.

C. B. Thomas, president of Chrysler's export division, viewed Secretary of State John Foster Dulles' recent press statements also as signs that Red China might be opened to U. S. trade.

Answers Questions

Thomas' comments came in answers to questions at a news conference in conjunction with Chrysler's showing of new model cars and other products yesterday.

When asked how the export outlook appeared, he replied "It is on the downgrade . . . . There is one outlook at the present time. If it opens up, it will be a big market. That is Communist China."

"Will you sell to Communist China?" a reporter asked.

Thomas responded:

"We will sell automobiles to any point that the government will agree to our shipping. It is a government policy and not ours . . . .

"If you have been reading the press in the last two days you'll notice the subject came up in (secretary of state) Dulles' statements—partial recognition of Communist China.

Others In Market

"We cannot sell nor can we ship, but already France, Italy and England are shipping to Communist China . . . .

"The Commerce Department and State Department have been making a survey of industry for a week in the past getting sentiment as to the availability of supplies possibly on a restricted basis. That was the reason for the comment the market might open. . . ."

Dulles hinted in a news conference Monday if Red China changed its anti-Western policies and stopped support of agression in Indo-china and elsewhere there might be a possibility of recognition.

Benson Finds Cotton Biggest Texas Worry

LUBBOCK, Tex (AP)—Secretary of Agriculture Benson found south plains Texas farmers a little less worried about drought today but concerned over a prospective cotton control program for 1954.

Recent rains, he was told by producers, have raised hope that a prolonged drought—four years old in some areas—may be nearing an end.

But fears that a cotton control program may force drastic reductions in acreages of this crop—and a resulting sharp decline in farm income—from crops on top of losses from cattle—have bobbed up.

The secretary stopped overnight on a 5,000-mile tour of Southwestern and Western drought areas being made in an Army plane to determine if changes are needed in government drought aid measures.

Health Board To Inspect City Food Handlers

New System Adopted After Change in Law; $25 License Fee Set

All Marion restaurants, hotels, taverns, soda fountains and other places where food is served will be required to pay $25 yearly license beginning January 1.

The Marion Board of Health today announced it has adopted a regulation to levy the annual license fee upon each food service operation in the city.

Passage of the local regulation is in accordance with law passed by the State legislature on July 14. This law transferred the regulation of restaurants from the office of the State Fire Marshal to the State Department of Health. The State Department of Health then set up its regulations and delegat-

Girl Kidnaped, Found, in N.Y.

Scar-Faced Man Enters Home at 4 A.M.

NEW YORK (AP)—Police said a 13-year-old girl was found today about four hours after she was kidnaped from her East Side Manhattan home by a scar-faced man.

The girl was located in the Elmhurst district of Queens. Police gave no other details.

Her kidnaper terrorized the girl's family for almost an hour before taking her away about 5 a. m.

The girl, Dorothea del Longo, was clad in pajamas and topcoat when whisked away in a car by the man.

The bizarre story was told to police by the girl's step-father, James Botticelli, 40 superintendent of a five-story rooming house.

About 4 a. m., Botticelli said, a loud knock on the door awakened the family — Botticelli, his wife, Bertha, Dorothea, and a son, Thomas, 10.

"Who is it," Botticelli asked.

"The law," was the reply.

When the superintendent opened the door, he said the man smashed him in the face with his fist.

The man, about 28 years old, held a hand in his pocket as though he had a gun.

After forcing Botticelli to pour two glasses of wine and drink with him, the man moved toward the door and told the young girl to come with him.

As he left the apartment with Dorothea about 5 a. m., the man told the family:

"Don't be afraid. I'm not going to hurt her. I have three kids of my own."

The man added he only wanted the girl to carry the radio for him to his car. Once they reached the car, however, he shoved the girl into it and sped off.

Clark Declines To Comply With Spy Probe Subpoena

Ike Greeted At Canadian Border Stop

Officials, Mounties Welcome President On Good-Will Visit

ABOARD EISENHOWER TRAIN (UP) — Pajama-clad President Eisenhower, headed for Ottawa on a good will visit, was welcomed at the border today by Canadian officials and a red-jacketed detail of Royal Canadian Mounted Police.

The welcoming delegation of Canadians joined the Eisenhower special train at Rouses Point, N. Y. just across the boundary line from Canada, at 7.30 a. m EST.

Still in Berth

The President was still in his private car berth when the train came to a halt so four cars from Ottawa could be hooked on for the rest of the trip.

A few minutes later, however, the sleepy-eyed chief executive came to the rear platform of the car and waved to the crowd of about 100 townsfolk who had turned out.

Eisenhower was joined at Rouses Point by an Ottawa delegation headed by L. B. Pearson, Canadian foreign secretary, and R Douglas Stuart, the American ambassador to Canada.

Royal Canadian Mounted Police came aboard to work with the U. S. Secret Service in protection of the President during his two-day state visit in Canada.

Traveling with the President were Mrs. Eisenhower, who will observe her 57th birthday in Ottawa tomorrow; Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge Jr., chief of the U.S. delegation to the United Nations, and his wife; A. D. P. Heeney, Canada's ambassador to the United States; a staff of White House aides; and 40 newsmen.

Will Address Parliament

On Eisenhower's state visit agenda are an address to the Canadian Parliament tomorrow, private talks with top officials of the dominion, and a round of social affairs. He will leave Ottawa by train late tomorrow night and return to Washington Sunday afternoon.

At his news conference Wednesday Eisenhower described his visit as a social call to pay his respects to the Canadian people. He said his speech to Parliament would deal with matters of common interest to the United States and Canada.

Important among those matters are continental defense against any enemy attack, the St. Lawrence seaway and power projects, and expansion of trade.

Joint Committee Named

As for trade, the two governments announced yesterday the creation of a joint committee to deal with matters in that field. A White House statement said the committee's activities "will constitute one aspect of the efforts of both countries in promoting satisfactory trade relations on a multilateral basis throughout the free world."

Before the Eisenhower train left for New York City last night it was twice held up for mechanical repairs while being switched and shuttled onto the proper tracks to Canada.

Truman told the congressional group he intended to ignore their subpoena to appear. Joining the cast in the White spy probe (lower photo), T. Lamar Caudle (extreme left) former assistant attorney general, and Maj. Gen. Harry Vaughan (extreme right), former military aide to ex-President Truman, testify before the Senate internal security subcommittee. Caudle (with committee member Sen. Robert Hendrickson) said he brought the spy report on Harry Dexter White to the attention of Tom Clark, then attorney general. Vaughan told the Jenner group he had "no recollection" of seeing the report.

Views Stated In Letter to Velde Group

Follows Same Course As Truman but Will 'Consider' Questions

WASHINGTON (AP) — Supreme Court Justice Tom Clark refused today to comply with a subpoena to testify before the House Un-American Activities Committee on the Harry Dexter White case.

Clark offered, however, to give "serious consideration" to any written questions the committee may wish to send him.

In a letter to the committee, Clark based his rejection of the subpoena on the premise that the judiciary branch of the government is independent of the legislative.

Follows Truman Lead

This is the same constitutional basis on which former President Truman declined yesterday to honor a committee subpoena. Truman's stand was that the executive branch of the government was not subject to authority of the congressional branch.

Justice Clark's secretary delivered his letter to committee Chairman Velde (R-Ill) a few minutes before 10.30 a m, the time set in the subpoena for Clark to appear before the House investigators.

Velde called the committee into a closed-door session to consider Clark's letter.

When the Truman - Brownell - White controversy arose, the committee rushed out subpoenas for Truman, Clark and Gov. James F. Byrnes of South Carolina who was secretary of state in 1946.

Byrnes also has declined to honor the subpoena but has agreed to answer questions of a subcommittee if one will come to Columbia, S. C. Velde has said a subcommittee will go to Columbia.

The committee also lost another prospective witness, Jerome Blumauer, foreman of the federal grand jury in New York which considered the White case in 1947 but did not hand down an indictment.

Appearance Postponed

Velde said yesterday Blumauer would testify today, but last night Blumauer's appearance was postponed indefinitely.

A committee source said today Blumauer telephoned the committee last night that he could not comply with the committee's subpoena without being in contempt of court for divulging grand jury proceedings.

Truman told the committee politely but firmly yesterday he could not obey its order to testify on Atty. Gen. Brownell's charges that he promoted White in 1946 despite FBI reports that he was a spy.

To honor the subpoena, Truman asserted, would go against the constitutional separation of government branches and make the presidency "a mere arm of the legislative branch."

A Democratic source in touch with Clark—who was attorney general in 1946—said the justice has decided to refuse testimony on the ground a committee of Congress has no power to subpoena a member of the federal judiciary.

Must Come to Him

This source, who didn't want to be named, said also that Truman is giving thought to going on radio and television to tell his side of the White controversy and answer GOP charges of White House laxity in checking the loyalty of officials.

James F. Byrnes, once Truman's secretary of state and now his bitter political foe, declined to leave his post as governor of South Carolina to answer a committee subpoena. Chairman Velde (R-Ill) accepted Byrnes' suggestion to send

Got White House Word

GOP Put Heat on Velde To Cancel Subpoena Call

WASHINGTON (AP) — Heavy pressure was applied by the Republican National Committee and the White House before Republican members of the House Un-American Activities Committee dropped their plan to require former President Truman to testify.

This was learned today from reliable sources who may not be named.

The idea of having the ex-president as a witness in an investigation of the Harry Dexter White case originated with the Republicans, and they made the decision to give it up. How much weight they gave to the views of high GOP figures could not be pinned down.

The Republicans got their first intimation that they might be on shaky political ground when President Eisenhower, at his Wednesday news conference, said he personally would not have subpoenaed Truman or Supreme Court Justice Tom Clark.

Press Secretary James C. Hagerty said that, aside from any influence these personal views of Eisenhower may have had, the White

$20,000 in Gems Stolen in Dayton

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—About $20,000 worth of unmounted diamonds and other unmounted gems disappeared from a hotel room last night in the second such theft here in the last month.

Police Lt. Leslie F. St. Pierre said Howard J. Rosfelder of Cincinnati, salesman and half-owner of a wholesale jewelry firm, reported the theft about two hours after he returned from dinner.

Rosfelder told police he checked in at the hotel yesterday afternoon, then went out to make a call, returning to the hotel with the jewels about 4.30 p. m. When he went out to dinner at 6.30 p. m., he left the jewels in a closet.

Rosfelder said he returned from dinner about 7.45 p. m. and took a nap until about 9.30, when the theft was discovered.

Medical Academy Campaign

Diabetes Detection Drive Set in Marion Next Week

In an effort to find and treat Marion Countians who have diabetes but do not know it, the Marion Academy of Medicine will hold a campaign all next week, Nov. 15-21.

Residents of Marion County are urged by the academy to report to a physician of their choice sometime next week to obtain a free test which would uncover diabetes. Once found, the diabetic can be guided to medical care that will bring the ailment under control and enable him to live virtually a normal life.

The week-long campaign is headed by Dr. Charles W. Wilson, who was appointed by the Marion Academy president, Dr. Jack Smythe. The Marion group is cooperating in a nationwide program sponsored by the American Diabetes Association.

Others on the local diabetes committee include Dr. James McGlew, Dr. Clovis J. Altmaier and Dr. Merritt K. Marshall.

Local Scout troops will be distributing pamphlets to Marion homes urging the diabetes screening tests on Saturday and posters will appear in the downtown

Top Advisers Recall Peace Talk Delegates

Korean Conference Slated To Resume; No Information Released

PANMUNJOM (AP) — Top U. S. and Red negotiators return tomorrow to discuss plans for a Korean peace conference after a week's recess while staff advisers worked in secret on an agenda.

The advisers ended a series of six secret meetings today but refused to give any information on the results. However, they apparently reached some sort of agreement since the top delegates were called back.

Meanwhile, Gen. John E. Hull, U. N. Far East commander, said in Korea he would "absolutely" press for the release of all remaining anti-Red Korean and Chinese war prisoners on Jan. 22 if the already late conference hasn't begun by then.

By this, Hull meant the U. N. would object to any Red claim that any prisoners be held longer for any reason.

The truce agreement specifies that all unrepatriated POWs be released as civilians one month after the end of efforts to woo them home if the political conference has not settled their fate.

The Red interview program, now at a standstill, is due to end Dec. 23 by U. N. interpretation. The peace conference, originally scheduled to start by Oct. 28, has been stymied by the deadlock over an agenda for planning the talks.

The explanations hung in stalemate Thursday for the eighth straight day and no interviews were scheduled for Friday.

Overseas Mailing Deadline Sunday

Sunday is the deadline for mailing Christmas gift packages overseas, Homer D. Cole, local postmaster, reminded Marion residents today.

Although overseas packages can be mailed after Sunday, the Post-office Department can not guarantee their delivery by Christmas, Cole said.

Overseas shipments from Marion have been extremely light so far this year, he added.

Key Questions Go Unanswered

Public Still in Dark Over Harry Dexter White Case

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP)—The case of Harry Dexter White, as sensationally laid before the public by Atty Gen Brownell, is now a week old but questions which go to the heart of it remain unanswered

They involve Brownell himself former President Truman and his administration — including former Secretary of State Byrnes who is now governor of South Carolina The questions spring out of the background

In December 1945 while White was assistant secretary of the Treasury, the FBI gave the White House a 30 000-word report about a number of government employes including White alleged to be part of a Soviet spy ring

One month later Truman nominated White to be U S representative on the International Monetary Fund an important position On Feb 6 the Senate approved White s appointment

Two days before that the FBI had given the White House a special report of at least 25 typed pages on White alone It has been learned the FBI did not call him a spy but recited charges by informants who did

A similar report went to the State Department Byrnes then secretary of state now says he saw the report talked with Truman on Feb 6 the day the Senate confirmed White without knowing of the FBI report and asked Truman not to let the appointment of White go through Byrnes says Truman told him he had seen the FBI report Truman commissioned White

White held the job one year Truman then accepted his resignation with "sincere regret" on April 9 1947 Later a federal grand jury in New York questioned White but did not indict him In August 1948 three days after he swore to a congressional committee that he was neither a spy nor a Communist, White died

Truman says he fired White from the fund job when he found out he was "wrong" President Eisenhower s press secretary, James C Hagerty points to the Truman letter regretfully accepting White s resignation" Truman s explanation is that "people are sometimes fired by being allowed to resign "

In blasting open the White case in a speech last Friday Brownell said the first FBI report was delivered to Truman Three days later he said it was sent to the White House for Truman The second FBI report, he said was delivered to the White House for Truman

Brownell unqualifiedly called White a spy which apparently is more than the FBI did in its report and, apparently, more than the grand jury thought could be proved when it did not indict White

Here are some of the important unanswered questions.

How did Truman later learn White was "wrong"? Once having found out what did he do besides letting White resign? Did he try to prosecute White, or check to learn what damage White might have done the government?

Did anyone in the White House ever check with the FBI about White or any other members of the alleged spy ring in order to trap them or get them out of the government?

Authoritative sources have said there never was a White House-FBI agreement, for instance to promote White to the monetary fund so the FBI could further check on him and any contacts he might have

What is Truman s reply to Byrnes statement that he did see at least the second FBI report on White was urged not to commission him but did so and let him stay another year in the government?

Nor has Byrnes yet answered an obvious question since the first FBI report mentioned Alger Hiss as well as White, what did Byrnes do about checking on Hiss or getting rid of him? Byrnes says he was out of the country when that first report went to the State Department but was shown the second Did anyone tell him about Hiss and that first report?

Brownell has produced no evidence of his own to back up his charge Does he have it? Where is it? He has refused to see reporters who would have asked him that if they had the chance

And how can he say flatly White was a spy when the grand jury did not indict and the FBI did not draw conclusions but simply said its informants about White were reliable?

There are other unanswered questions Tom C Clark attorney general in 1945-46 and now a Supreme Court justice, as boss over the FBI was in a position to know about the reports What did he do?

What did Fred M Vinson do about White? He was chief justice of the Supreme Court when he died this year but was secretary of the Treasury, and White's boss at the time of the FBI reports Did he see them? What did he do?

Outlook Good For Builders, Realtors Hear

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Undersecretary of Commerce Walter Williams said today "another boom year for building" is indicated for 1954

"Activity in all types of construction is expected to maintain expenditures at close to the record volume of 1953," he declared in a talk prepared for the closing convention session of the National Assn of Real Estate Boards

Whereas the 1953 record dollar volume of construction is nearly 35 billion dollars, the 1954 new construction dollar volume should reach 34 billion, he said

Williams summarized the outlook for various types of construction this way

Nonfarm private house building down 6 to 8 per cent from 1953 or about the same as 1952 but housing is one of the "iffiest parts of next year s construction "

Major additions and alterations and minor maintenance and repairs increase perhaps 10 per cent this applying also to hotels motels and other nonhousekeeping residential construction

Industrial building, continued slow down but the dollar figure no more than 10 to 15 per cent below 1953

Stores and office buildings up about 10 per cent public utilities, continued mild expansion rate

Farm construction reflecting lower farm income undoubtedly will continue the drop begun in 1953.

Moral Values Held Important as Book Learning

Aims of Teaching Emphasized by Education Week

By DOLORES BASINGER

The aims of publication are given emphasis in Marion this week with the observance of National Education Week

Though the program lasts but a week, education is a year-round job, dedicated to fostering moral values in youngsters and awareness of responsibilities of citizenship as well as the fundamental book knowledge, manual skills and health and physical fitness.

SEVEN DAILY TOPICS for the week have been adopted by the National Education Association to point out the contributions, aims, and processes of education.

The first is "moral and spiritual learning."

All Marion public school classes hold devotional periods during either the morning or afternoon sessions The period usually includes a Scripture reading and prayer. In addition to the regular devotional periods, special religous education classes are offered on a voluntary basis to the city's fourth and fifth graders during the school day The classes are sponsored by the Marion County Council of Churches.

AT CHRISTMAS TIME special religious programs are given in the elementary school buildings while the junior and senior high schools present their programs, sometimes in the form of a religious play. The choir at Harding High has an annual caroling tradition During the week preceding Easter Sunday, services for the high school students are presented each morning at a nearby church

Throughout the year, choir programs include religious music The Marion students are also being taught moral values by way of social science courses The city's Hi-Y clubs in junior and senior high schools stress religious training.

"LEARNING THE fundamentals," second topic of the week's list, is probably the one most remembered in connection with school days Reading, handwriting, spelling, correct speech and arithmetic always have been fundamental tasks in America's schools.

These subjects are not taught in the same manner now as they were, even a few years ago Through experiments, study and discussion, educators are attempting to improve methods of teaching fundamentals.

City School Superintendent Lester L. Dickey commented that present stress is "as strong on fundamental subjects as ever Reading is probably approached more successfully than ever."

HE WENT ON to explain that contrary to older beliefs that reading training should be one on the elementary school level, the emphasis now is on reading through the junior high school level, too

A good education system, it has been proved, certainly brings about the next point, "building the national strength" National strength is born through the teaching of our national heritage and the responsibilities which come with it

"There is now a greater stress on actual participation in citizenship," Mr. Dickey said.

THE STUDENTS participate in discussions of current events in government classes, but they do more than that. Present government classes take them out of books and classrooms and into local settings where government is formed. It teaches them to "prepare for loyal citizenship" Class officer elections, Student Council planning and contests such as the annual "I Speak for Democracy" competition, sponsored by the Jaycees, help bring that phase of the school program into focus. A newly-formed Marion Youth Forum radio broadcast, where the students express their individual opinions on matters of interest to Marion teen-agers and adults, places emphasis on this point.

The student has more say in all school activities now The feeling that the student helps make the rules is more conducive to his living up to them, educators believe

"THE SCHOOL BOARD in action" is another important link in the school's education program. Actually a policy-making group the board is responsible to the people and the school is responsible to the board. School board members have to learn to work with fellow board members, the school administration and other public agencies. They have to know what is good in education and should have the courage to work for improvements. The board makes decisions on many important matters for the city's schools It makes the final approval for hiring new teachers.

"Your child's teachers" are ever-important factors in the young individual's future. They spend a great deal of time out of the classroom stuyding and discussing new and better methods of preparing the future citizen to assume their adult roles.

THIS SUMMER some 176 of them registered for the two-day workshop held at State Street Junior High School where they met to discuss teaching problems with out-of-town consultants In October they attended the Central Ohio Teachers Association convention in Columbus. Many of their summers are spent in refresher courses at college and many of them spend time in extension courses or correspondence work during the school year.

Their "off-duty" hours are usually spent in "homework," which includes grading daily work and preparing for coming study subjects.

"Only half of a teacher's job is in the classroom," the Marion school superintendent said.

THE BEST EXAMPLE of the last topic for the week, "parent and teacher teamwork," can be found at the Parent Teacher Association meetings which go on regularly during the school year at all of the city's elementary and junior high schools Thirteen of the 14 Marion schools have PTA's. The high school, which has special groups such as the Band Parents and the Booster Club has no general PTA group.

Over 3,000 parents attend PTA meetings throughout the city. They meet with teachers and school administrators in an effort to iron out any problems which may exist and to reach a better level of understanding.

THE PTA's do everything from supplying certain materials to the schools to helping with lunchroom programs They participate in the annual Ohio PTA Memorial scholarship awards. Marion PTA's became included in the scholarship plan last year for the first time.

Rewarding proof to the Marion educators, and to educators throughout the United States, is the increasing rate of students who become high school graduates. Presently, more than 50 per cent of the children who enter the first grade wind up as graduates. In 1920, the rate was only 15 per cent

That, in itself, is standard proof that Education Week is being put to work on a year-round basis.

Brings Joys, Responsibilities

Arrival of Baby Makes Difference in Home Life

By DOROTHY WHIPPLE, MD
AP Newsfeatures

A baby makes tremendous changes in the way of life of a young couple

A great many of the changes are good A baby changes a house into a home No amount of beautiful home furnishings can produce the soul-warming effect of the beaming smile and exstatic wiggle of a happy baby

But a baby supplies more than joy and satisfaction He supplies work and worry and responsibility and for the mother a good deal of isolation

A baby has to be taken care of 24 hours a day, 7 days a week, 365 days a year It is this being tied down that "gets" many a young mother especially if she has been accustomed to a pretty free life before her baby was born You and your baby will have to be in the same place all the time Either you stay at home or you take him with you, unless you can arrange to have a baby sitter

Better face it and make some plans

First accept the fact that for the early years of your child s life you will be child-bound Plan to develop what resources you have that will keep you interested and content at home Learn to be an A-1 cook, housekeeper and mother

But in addition to the things you can do at home you need friends to talk to and you need to get away from home occasionally Also you and your husband need to go out alone together from time to time and have fun

Where you live makes a big difference in solving this problem of isolation A tiny downtown apartment is fine for a young childless couple but it s not so good when there is a baby A house in the country sounds wonderful for children but in the early years the isolation is often hard on the mother If you can manage to live in a community where there are young couples with children you will make friends with other girls your own age whose problems are similar to yours You can visit back and forth with your children and occasionally you can keep each other's children while one of you gets away for a time Even evenings out can often be arranged

Maybe you will live near enough to your family so that the grandparents can be your baby sitters—they love to do it, usually

But though you need a baby sitter don't make the mistake of living with your parents if you can possibly avoid it. A young couple needs to live alone You are bound to make mistakes but if you can work them out by yourselves you will gain an assurance almost impossible to attain under the constant critical supervision of the older generation

Whatever you do, try to face your problem before it makes you a frustrated unhappy woman

I had a young mother in my office recently whose children acted pretty badly in the strange place I suggested to her that she bring them in quite often just to play in my playroom and become a little more familiar with the place She looked at me so pathetically and said— Oh, doctor, I d just love to—it would give me some place to go '

Face your problems and try to solve them before they get you into that situation

When he finished, the story went, he threw the butt on the water Another big trout came out of the water and took the butt down

The Tuberculosis Fight

The 47th annual Christmas Seal Sale will open in Marion County next Monday, which makes this weekend an appropriate time to take stock of the tuberculosis problem.

With the Christmas Seals playing important roles, the fight against tuberculosis is being won. The death rate from this disease has dropped steadily through the years. But it is a never-ending battle against a foe that gives ground grudgingly.

Today in Marion County there are 341 known tuberculosis cases. Sixteen of the patients were admitted to sanitoriums this year and the remainder are under the care of local physicians or the supervision of the health department.

Thirty-three new cases have been reported in the county this year and there have been seven tuberculosis deaths. The county death toll from tuberculosis in 1920 was 40.

The Christmas Seal Sale helps support the work of the Marion County Tuberculosis and Health Association. Foremost among the many worthy services performed by this organization are the free chest X-rays which provide the opportunity for early detection of tuberculosis and other diseases of the lungs and chest.

The first Christmas Seal Sale was held nationally in 1907 and the movement began locally in 1911 with Mrs. J. W. Freeland as the first chairman. The contributions here that first year totaled $150, while last year's sale obtained $9,501.88. Judge Edward J. Ruzzo is the 1953 chairman.

The sale has a very practical side in the use of the seals on cards and gifts, and the purchaser gains the added satisfaction of assisting in the defeat of a dreaded and implacable enemy.

Off the Pace

Good advice about the latest sensation in Washington seems to us to have come from that seasoned Washington old-timer, David Lawrence.

Commenting on fast and furious developments in the Harry Dexter White case, Lawrence suggests they may be too fast and furious for the public good — that too many people are trying to make headlines, which is a reminder of something that has interested us for a long time.

Is it likely the United States could have been formed out of the chaos of colonialism in the 18th century if the founding fathers had lacked time for lengthy deliberation?

In those far-off days news, insulated, provocations and misrepresentations traveled slowly. What one public figure said about another one might not be heard for weeks and months after the event. The time-lag on rebuttals was just as long. The pace of public strife was slow.

The Constitutional Convention dragged on from May to September in 1787 and had been preceded by years of deliberate discussion. It was followed, moreover, by more years of correspondence and debate among leading men, all of them with ample time to think twice before they spoke. Out of their deliberation came the philosophy and the structure of this republic. It was slow evolution.

The pace today is rapid. But it may be doubted that men are any better equipped for reasoning than they were in the 18th century, when even the wisest ones were afraid they might repent at leisure if they decided in months what some of their progeny now decide in minutes.

Fooling With the Barometer

The most sensitive barometer of economic trends, contends the International Brotherhood of Teamsters, is the average work week.

The brotherhood's economic report for November reports that the average work week dropped to 39.6 hours in September and points out this was its lowest level since November, 1949—a recession period.

This apparently means that if organized labor were to shorten the work week still further, as its spokesmen say it intends to do, the net effect would be to hasten a depression. That is not true.

The fact is that the average work week in manufacturing has dropped from nearly 54 hours in 1890 to its present level of approximately 40 hours while the index of industrial production has doubled.

Weekly earnings have soared from a little more than $8 to their present level of more than $70. Hourly earnings have climbed from 15 cents to $1.78.

No one can know what the average work week would be without the artificial restraint of the mandatory 40-hour week at straight-time rates. But no one can be so naive as not to know that organized labor is currently interested in reducing the maximum to below 40 in order to collect overtime rates.

The average work week is a sensitive barometer, but it is affected by many more things than ordinary business conditions — things like efficiency of production, federal legislation and the morale of workers.

Deliberateness on Political Issues Gone

Something seems to have happened to the old fashoined deliberateness which men in public life used to apply to their conduct when explosive controversies of a delicate political nature suddenly confronted them.

Instead of calmly taking time to get all the facts and coming up in a few days with a cool and dispassionate appraisal, the tendency has been to go off half-cocked.

This applies both to former President Truman's handling of the Larry Dexter White case and to President Eisenhower's unnecessary comments at his press conference on the way the House un-American Activities Committee had decided to subpena former President Truman.

Also it applies to the impulsive action of the chairman of the House committee, who might better have waited to develop the case before summoning Mr. Truman.

WHEN NEWS FIRST reached Mr. Truman, he said he had no recollection of the FBI memorandum mentioned by Attorney General Brownell in his speech last Friday and that anyway as soon as White's "disloyalty" was discovered, he was "fired."

Now it turns out that James F. Byrnes, then secretary of state, discussed the White case and the FBI memorandum with Mr. Truman.

Also, the attorney general has given out a statement saying the department of State found in its files confirmation of Mr. Byrnes' intervention the day before the Senate confirmed White to be U.S. director of the International Monetary Fund on Feb. 6, 1946.

Then on April 30, 1946, Mr. Truman wrote a laudatory letter to White as he was resigning his post as assistant secretary of the treasury.

White's sister now makes public another such complimentary letter from Mr. Truman, written when White finally resigned as U.S. director of the International Monetary Fund. It is dated April 8, 1947—fourteen months after the FBI memorandum of Feb. 4, 1946.

MR. TRUMAN would have been subject to no criticism whatsoever if he had told the reporters that he would have to consult his files to determine what had really happened. Nobody would have begrudged the former president an opportunity to learn what had occurred even if it took several days to get the facts.

But, in these days of pressure to get a headline before a counter-headline is obtained by the other side, Mr. Truman reacted precipitately and to his own disadvantage.

Mr. Truman never liked to delve deeply into lengthy reports and depended on his staff to evaluate them. It is quite possible that the FBI memorandum wasn't taken seriously then, any more than it is given weight by lots of the pro-Truman and New Deal reporters today who discount anything contributed by ex-Communists, especially if they have confessed their error.

The fact that Elizabeth Bentley, for example, testified about the inside of the Soviet spy ring and turned up dozens of names and facts which the FBI investigators checked and found accurate doesn't seem to bother some of those who insist on disbelieving anybody who confesses to communistic activities.

Miss Bentley's testimony has stood up in the criminal trials where the FBI has used her statements. Juries have based their verdicts not merely on her say-so but on testimony of other witnesses who have corroborated what she has charged.

THE WHOLE TENDENCY of some of the Truman administration officials of the New Deal type was to assume that an attack on a Communist was an attack on the New Deal or Fair Deal and hence that it was necessary for the Democratic administration to take a defensive attitude.

It would have been much better, even this week, if the Democratic leaders had expressed dismay that any espionage agent had slipped through their checks.

They might have stated frankly that the matter of who did poo-pooh the report and how it came to be disregarded at the White House should be thoroughly studied as a lesson for the future.

Instead, the cry of politics was raised, which is a political blunder in itself. It's bad politics for Democrats to let the public get the impression they would defend Communists in government, whereas Republicans are the only ones trying to ferret them out.

It would have been so easy to keep the anti-Communist effort on a nonpartisan basis. Instead, the Democratic strategy is playing into the hands of the Republicans and giving them an issue of prolonged effectiveness.

Actually, there was a good deal of forbearance on Mr. Brownell's part. He first learned of the second FBI memorandum in Mid-October and need not have waited till after the elections, if, indeed, he was interested in getting a political advantage.

AS FOR EISENHOWER, he never should have stepped into the controversy at all at his press conference. He should have been briefed in advance to say only that his own attorney general was handling it.

Members of Congress are not happy when the President tries to tell them whom they should or shouldn't subpena, especially when the chairmanships are held by members of his own party.

Some of the president's press conference comments implied that he was not supporting his own attorney general. It wasn't so intended, but that inference was drawn by the pro-Truman reporters who did most of the questioning.

They seemed to be more concerned about technical procedures than about the fact a Russian spy for a long time held a high post in our government.

It would have been the better part of wisdom for the President to let the controversy simmer along, with the Department of Justice and congressional committees developing the case in their own way.

There would have been time enough for comment by the President when all the facts in the case had been brought out in public.

The controversy over Communists in government is a bitter one, and there are many people who feel that the political aspects of it are most unfortunate, as the sole object of both parties should be to root out the Communist agents still in government and to expose those who have escaped detection in the past, irrespective of politics.

Boom Times

By TRUMAN TWILL

One thing about hunting season doesn't worry us at our place any more. We used to feel sorry for the small game.

We had the idea the first year we lived in the country and saw all those bloodthirsty people charging into the fields and woods that there wouldn't be a bunny or a pheasant left alive by sundown.

We had a picture of the poor things quivering helplessly in their hideaways while sudden death closed in on them from all sides. But as it turned out, the bunnies and the birds were able to take care of themselves.

It's the hunters who need the benefit of a permanently closed season — not the few hunters who know how to take care of themselves in the field but the many who are no more competent to be turned loose in the countryside during hunting season than kicks would be if dropped in Times Square, New York City.

As a matter of fact, that's an injustice to us hicks because if anyone dropped us in Times Square we'd read the signs put up for our information, mind our manners and behave the way we were taught.

There would be no half-concealed buildings for us to bombard with high - powered scatterguns, breaking windows and terrorizing the occupants.

There would be no fences for us to break down by throwing the weight of our well-larded bodies on a single strand of wire. There'd be no fences for us to cut with wire cutters which we just happened to have in our pockets.

If the signs said "Keep Off" we'd keep off. We'd not barge in where we were not wanted. We'd not discharge any firearms we happened to be carrying in the direction of a lady with a red hat, thinking she might be a game bird.

If a cow happened to be nearby we wouldn't let fly with a blast of gunfire in self-defense.

We wouldn't park cars in lanes that did not belong to us, turn loose dogs which knew no more about their strange environment than we knew, or undertake to carry a loan of licker while carrying a gun.

We hicks think that we would give a better account of ourselves in the city than some city folks give of themselves in the country at hunting season.

And to make sure there's no prejudice in that statement, we acknowledge that some shady practices are indulged in by other ruralites when blasting season opens.

While things are never as bad as we fear they are going to be, they are worse than they need to be in view of the fact hunting is not an inalienable right and is bestowed by legislative action, instead of by natural law.

Either all hunters will learn not to abuse the privilege of discharging firearms at certain live targets outside city limits at certain times of the year, or some day all hunters will be reduced to shooting one another for sport.

In view of the widening margin of security for small game as it grows brighter and the hunters grow duller, hunters are not too far from that state of affairs now. Those rabbits and pheasants are getting mighty smart.

Death Knell for American Labor Party

By Raymond Moley

During the recent campaign in New York City I had the opportunity to witness at first hand the death of a political party. I am not referring to the Republican party in the city which, except for a chronic case of malnutrition, is still possessed of a firm constitution.

I refer to the American Labor party, in which the Reds have become so troublesome that even Vito Marcantonio, the high priest and once the patronage saint of the outfit, has given it up.

My own knowledge is based upon active participation in political affairs in my home district, which was the fatherland of the ALP and the constituency which Marcantonio represented for seven terms. In 1950, we all joined and defeated him with a Democrat, James G. Donovan.

THE YEAR before Marcantonio's defeat for Congress, he was a candidate for mayor and received 356,422 votes over the city.

In 1950, his candidate for mayor received 149,182 votes. In the recent election, his candidate for mayor fell to 54,372.

In the 2nd councilmanic district, which was the center of the old American Labor party strength, the drop has been even more drastic.

In 1949, its candidate for the City Council received 27,853 votes. This time, the score was 1,943.

An examination of what happened makes it clear that the Communist group decided to move into the Democratic party. The Daily Worker told its readers to vote for Wagner, the Democratic candidate for mayor.

They apparently feel that their evil purposes can best be accomplished in the Democratic party rather than by standing out in a smaller splinter party where they can be more easily identified.

ON THE DAY after the election, Marcantonio gave up the ghost. He resigned from the state chairmanship of the ALP. His statement accompanying the resignation was very significant.

He explained that a "minority" in the party had insisted that its objective was to defeat the Republican candidate for mayor. This explains the Daily Worker endorsement of Wagner.

"For too long now," continued Marcantonio's statement, "The American Labor party has been a 'house divided against itself,' between us who believed in the American Labor party as an effective political party nominating and electing candidates and those who, I charged last April, were attempting to force upon us the role of a pressure group."

One very important general conclusion can be adduced from this statement and the events which brought it about.

The Communists in this country, at least as represented in this virile center of their operation, are not a legitimate political party, do not intend to operate as one should, and are not interested in a fair elective contest for public offices.

MARCANTONIO'S designation of them as a "pressure group" is an absurd understatement.

What they are is a conspiracy to destroy free elections and all the rest of the institutions of our government.

Why should they be given any of the privileges and immunities of a legitimate political party?

Some of them have always hidden behind the contention that to belong to the Communist party is admissible because it is a lawful party. Why should we provide this screen?

To be sure, it has been contended by many well - meaning people, including Gov. Dewey, that to outlaw the party will drive its members underground.

It is underground already for all its sinister purposes. The only reason it maintains its public identity is to avail itself of privileges which it uses only to recruit new members and to mess up the activities of other parties.

It should be outlawed by state law wherever it now exists.

Yule Cards for Kiddies

The demand for Christmas cards children can send, or be sent, has skyrocketed in recent years. Most of the leading Christmas card publishers have, in fact, organized complete children's departments, and this year more than 100,000,000 will be sent and received by youngsters.

Explaining this development, a spokesman for the National Association of Greeting Card Publishers reports:

"Until about 2 years ago, youngsters under 10 years were supposed to be interested only in scooters and skates, bright red wagons and talking dolls. From our point of view, they were the 'Christmas card senders of tomorrow.'

"This idea has gradually and inevitably changed, and today it's doubtful if anyone enjoys the Christmas card custom as much as the kids."

At first publishers experimented with a few "for mommy and daddy" cards. Grandparents and godparents soon rated special cards, too, and eventually others were added for brothers and sisters, aunts and uncles and all close relatives.

Once the family circle was linked together, Christmas cards for children to send each other began appearing. Similar Christmas cards for grown-ups to send small fry were also introduced within a few more years.

This year designers are featuring novelty cutout cards, often a foot tall. Many are shaped like Christmas trees, Tom Thumb trains and miniature sleighs, with tiny bells attached.

One even opens into a standing paper basket for holding other Christmas cards. Gifts of money can be sent in piggy bank cards, with circular grooves for inserting 10 shiny dimes or wallet shaped cards, if the donor feels especially generous.

Three-dimensional cards are another recent innovation. Strands of colored yarn were attached in some cases so they may be dangled from the family tree or a mantelpiece. As one unusual 3-D card opens, Santa comes sliding down the fireplace of an old-fashioned red brick chimney.

Christmas card verse writers believe most children prefer sentiments which are "short and sweet, easy to repeat." Like this—

> A loving wish
> But very true . . .
> May Christmas give
> It's best to you!

Frequently, however, the verse draws its theme from the design. Thus a happy youngster wearing his new Indian chief costume asks—

> Can't you hear
> The tom-tom say;
> "A merry, merry
> Christmas day?"

Most designers, on the other hand, feel that youngsters like richness of color scheme and a dash of yuletide whimsy. Hence, the Christmas card cottage that smiles, or the reindeer nibbling a jolly snowman's carrot-nose.

From all indications, both ideas have proved extremely popular in pleasing the pre-teen ager. For this year it's estimated that one out of every 15 Christmas cards mailed will be going to, or coming from, the little folks.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

Real News Newsreel

U.N. is going to stop reserving seats for spectators by phone. It thinks that anybody who wants to sleep that much should be willing to wait in line with the rest of us.

The Moscow radio having asked for request numbers on its musical programs, we hear Earl Browder has called up and asked for "I Don't See Me in Your Eyes Any More." Gen. Harry Vaughan says he has no recollection of ever getting the report the FBI says it handed to him that Harry Dexter White was a Russian spy. Maybe he was awfully busy with deep-freezer discussions that day. President Truman also says that he has no recollection of it. (We hope Harry isn't implying that whenever he got a note from the FBI he thought it was just a request for a piano number and couldn't bother.)

American Cigarette Company, 95 per cent owned by American Tobacco, is to be absorbed by the latter which will give eight shares of A.T. for each one of A.C. . . . This is presumably the king-size exchange.

Mayor-elect Wagner and Mrs. Wagner are vacationing in Nassau, Bahamas. Due to his Tiger background, maybe Bob just misinterpreted "Three Cheers for Old Nassau."

Penelope the platypus, widely heralded as about to have a blessed event, disappointed the New York Zoo experts. "Well," said the Office Democrat when he heard the news, "that's Eisenhower for you!"

The New York Subways are to get 200 new cars. We know a fellow who squawks that he hasn't been able to get into one of the old ones yet. The new subway cars will be very modern. Padded floors, resilient ropes and water-buckets the same as required by the fight rules everywhere else.

"What's that stuff?" asked Art Carney. "Caviar" replied Jackie Gleason. "Throw it away; it's gettin' black," said Carney. Pretty funny line, too, was his retort to the big businessman who asked him, "How did you ever come to get a job in the sewer?" — "Just lucky, I guess."

"Sales Up 25 per cent; Profits Down 15 per cent" — headline. Remember away back when you could be sure a thing like that was a typographical error instead of a reflection of the new economic system?

"Kind Sir," which, despite bad notices from the critics, is sold out through May, is one of the costliest comedies in theater history and could well bear the program note, "Production by Aga Khan." Story is feeble, but with Charles Boyer and Mary Martin starred, what do you want with your champagne? It is a little like putting John Barrymore and Maude Adams in "The Ladder."

There should be one scene in which Mary introduces "I'm in Love With a Wonderful Guy," and Charles gives with "Nothing Like a Dame." Boyer is a U. S. State Department diplomat in the show but he plays opposite Miss Martin as if he suspected she might turn out to be Joe McCarthy.

Pee Wee Reese says he doesn't want to be named manager of the Dodgers. He's sure there must be easier ways to find total ingratitude.

Vito Marcantonio has quit the American Labor party, there being a red flag on the play.

Mortgage Money Not So Scarce, Lenders Choosy

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—Money may be a little easier to come by this winter if you want a new home. But the mortgage lender's eye is much colder today than a year ago.

Builders still complain about a tight mortgage market, in spite of the recent easing of money and credit in general. But lenders put it this way: "No actual shortage of mortgage funds, but access to it is becoming more difficult."

Lenders, in other words, are taking the cream of the applicants, and turning down unattractive risks.

Returning from a survey trip across the country, George W. Warnecke, head of the national mortgage investment firm bearing his name, reports today a slight easing of the mortgage market in the last month. He finds the market fairly strong in the West, firm in the Midwest, and undergoing "a period readjustment" in the East.

Caution, not lack of money, keeps the mortgage market tighter than it was last year, says George L. Bliss, president of the Century Federal Savings Assn. of New York. Back of the caution is fear that if home building continues at the rate of a million or more homes a year there may soon be an oversupply.

But a builder, David Picket, president of the Gotham Construction Corp. of New York, disagrees. He thinks there's still a substantial backlog of demand and predicts 1954 will be another one million housing unit year.

In the Chicago area, Warnecke reports, all homes are selling well, but in both New York and Los Angeles areas he found houses priced above $12,500 hard to sell. Stricter credit terms may be a reason.

"Requiring 10 to 15 per cent down payments automatically reduces the market in many areas," he says.

Demand for office space stays high, he reports, especially in some of the smaller cities where big corporations are locating branch offices. He finds lenders in medium-sized cities "generally ready to finance modernization of existing buildings but extremely cautious in underwriting new office construction of the type that is required."

Where is the money for future mortgage lending to come from? Earl B. Schwulst, head of the Bowery Savings Bank of New York, tells the Mortgage Bankers of America, meeting this week in Miami Beach, that savings banks have about six billion dollars they could invest in more mortgages.

State Police Right To Enforce Truck Load Law Upheld

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Three federal judges yesterday upheld the right of state police to enforce truck weight limits on highways, dismissing a suit filed April 30 1952, by Lattavo Brothers, Inc, of Canton, Ohio.

Lattavo contended it was not subject to Pennsylvania's load limits because it operates under Interstate Commerce Commission regulations and uses federal-aided highways.

What's more, Lattavo said, application of the maximum weight laws of the Pennsylvania motor vehicles code imposed an unreasonable burden on interstate commerce because the trucks complied with Ohio weight laws

The judges—U. S Circuit Court Judge Austin L Staley and U. S District Court Judges Wallace S Gourley and Rabe F Marsh—said the firm had not proved Pennsylvania's 45,000 pound gross weight limit is unreasonable

2 Fugitive Airmen Held By Sheriff in Wisconsin

CAMBRIDGE, Wis. (AP)— Sheriff Franz Haas said yesterday he is holding Carl Lainhart, 19, of Miami, Ohio, and Corydon Umber, 18, of Lion Mountain, N. Y., for federal authorities. The youths were captured near here yesterday and identified as fugitives from the U. S. Air Force Retaining Center, Chanute Field, Ill.

'Big City' Electric Service Ordered to New Carlisle Man

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — S. W. Nafe of Rt. 1, New Carlisle, today won his fight to get "a big city" electric service.

The state utilities commission mailed out an order to the Dayton Power and Light Co. telling it to provide Nafe with electric service forthwith Nafe, branch manager of the Underwood Corp. of Dayton, had been receiving service from the Pioneer Rural Electric Co., a co-operative, but complained last spring he was not happy with the service.

Under law in effect when the application was filed, the commission has no jurisdiction over co-operatives because they are not defined as public utilities.

The commission adopted as its own the findings and recommendations of Atty. Examiner C. Howard Johnson Jr. Johnson found Nafe was not receiving electric service from a public utility. But he also said Nafe had a legal right to require electric service from a public utility serving the area in which he lives. Dayton Power and Light has authority from the commission to serve that area.

Johnson found Nafe had a legal right to require Dayton Power and Light to supply electric service to his home and recommended the commission order the company to put Nafe's home on its line. That's what the commission did today.

Working of School Boards Explained To 2 City Groups

Two Marion groups interested in education, the PTA City Council and the Child Conservation League, held a joint meeting recently at the Harding High School lunch room and heard discussion on "How Our School Boards Operate." The speakers were D. T. Mills, superintendent of Marion County schools, and J. D. Torrance, member of the city school board 12 years.

Mrs. William Schott was moderator, and introduced Mrs. Robert McCombs, council president who gave the welcome, and Mrs. Richard Minshall, CCL president who gave response. Devotions were by Miss Philomen Gregg, principal of George Washington School. Mrs. Marvin Brown, Miss Helen Thew, and Mrs. Viola Rinnert sang.

Mr. Mills discussed the functions of the school board, policy making, approval of measures, evaluation, and choosing of the school superintendent.

Pointing out that board members give their time and effort to school work without pay, Mr. Torrance listed the purpose of the group as providing for free education and duties such as setting up length of school year, providing for management and construction of buildings, granting diplomas, cooperating with board of health measures, furnishing books and arranging for transportation of students living more than two miles from the school and for the handicapped, employing teachers, approving textbooks, issuing bonds for improvements, providing for operation expenses, and adopting a budget each year.

General discussion followed. An intermisison for refreshments was held, in charge of Mrs. Robert Romoser and Mrs. Don Chapman, then separate business meetings of the PTA and CCL groups were conducted. Announcement was made that Mrs. John Rinnert has been appointed new Central District PTA director. Plans were made for a minstrel show Nov. 18 and 19 at Edison Junior High School. Next PTA group meeting will be Jan. 11, when Dr. Kenneth Keever of Richwood will speak on the Magnetic Springs Polio Foundation.

Senator Says Election Hangs On Farm Issue

South Dakotan Looks For Administration To Offer Sound Program

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Case (R-SD) said today he expects the Eisenhower administration to recommend to Congress in January a farm program that will assure Republican control of Congress after next year's elections.

Case said "there is no doubt" but that the farm issue would decide the elections.

Case conferred yesterday with Agriculture Department officials after spending the past month talking to farmers and livestock men in his normally Republican state.

He had no criticism for Secretary of Agriculture Benson, as a few Republican congressmen and many Democrats have had. He praised the recent departmental reorganization by Benson which among other things revamped the soil Conservation Service and eliminated its regional offices. This feature touched off considerable criticism.

"I think that's a good thing" Case said in an interview. "It will place more authority in the state offices of the conservation service and bring it that much closer to the farmers."

Case agreed with Benson's critics that there is considerable dissatisfaction among farmers because of the drop in farm prices and incomes and lower prices for beef cattle.

"But beef prices have been fairly good for the past month and there has been some increase while hog and corn prices have remained strong," he said.

Case said he has "some ideas" as to the program the administration's will offer at the new session but could not discuss them now.

Court Action Asked in Plane Plant Strike

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — North American Aviation, Inc., continues today to try to prove the striking CIO United Auto Workers Union is in contempt of a common pleas court order regarding picketing. The company wants the number of pickets halved.

Yesterday the company displayed in court a film taken Nov. 4 and 5 purporting to show pickets wearing false faces and dancing in front of cars entering the Columbus plant.

Edward F. Lanagan, North American labor relations representative, testified he saw the road in front of a plant entrance littered with broken glass and rocks Nov. 4. Lanagan said he did not know how the rocks got there but said they were near the picket line.

Meanwhile, Ray Ross, regional director and member of the UAW Executive Board, denied statements by L. M. Latshaw of Columbus, who identified himself as a union member.

Latshaw said he has appealed the strike action to the Executive Board on grounds the strike-authorizing vote was by a show of hands and there was no effort to determine eligibility of voters Oct. 23.

Ross said members voted by secret ballot on Oct. 4 to authorize a strike if local officers considered it necessary.

Union and company spokesmen continued making and refuting claims about returning workers. North American said 2,707 bargaining unit members—21.84 per cent of the unit—returned to work yesterday. The union denied the claim.

Just Hard Work

Favorite Daydreams No Longer Fun

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Your daydreams grow up as you do.

This fact is giving me quite a headache. My daydreams used to be fun. Now they're hard mental work. To tell you the truth, my daydreams are beginning to give me nightmares.

The trouble is, I always imagine I have a big rival in my daydream, and the dream itself is the drama of how I become a hero and show my rival up as a bum.

Here, for example is my oldest and most favorite daydream:

Dawn is breaking on the plains as I ride up to a small campfire, dismount stiffly from my tired pony, and put down my smoking rifle.

A buckskin-clad figure dozing by the fire throws off a blanket and looks up drowsily. It is Buffalo Bill himself.

"Where you been, Hal?" he asks.

"Just shot me 1,276 buffalo," I reply curtly.

"In the dark?"

"Of course, in the dark. Any man who shoots a buffalo by daylight is a coward."

"You can't call me that," says Buffalo Bill, reaching for his holster.

"Draw, darn you draw!" I say, my gun hand hovering like eagle talons. Buffalo Bill looks in my steel gray eyes and sees death in them.

"I was just a-jokin'," he says lamely.

"Well, I wasn't," I answer shortly. "When you kill buffalo, you sell 'em to the railroad work gangs, don't you?"

"Yeah," says Buffalo Bill. "It's just a living with me."

"Well, you know what I'm going to do with my 1,276 buffalo, Bill? I'm a-going to give 'em all free to the pioneer mothers of America so as they can feed their kids. Why do you suppose they all call me 'Buffalo Hal, the mother's pal'?"

Buffalo Bill is so ashamed he covers up his head with his blanket like a prairie dog. End of dream.

"Well, about the time of my 40th birthday this daydream began to get a bit threadbare. I got ashamed of making poor old Buffalo Bill feel ashamed.

I looked around for a new rival in my daydreams and found him in "Real Estate Bill." And I've had nothing but woe since.

This "Real Estate Bill" is William Zeckendorf, the fabulous Manhattan dealer who sold the United Nations site to John D. Rockefeller Jr., at a two million dollar profit. Bought the top of Nob Hill out in San Francisco, and owns or controls acreage and buildings in 35 states and three foreign countries.

Zeckendorf doesn't seem to know himself where his next tremendous deal is coming off. But in my daydreams I was making him look like a minor league cemetery lot salesman.

Then I made the mistake of dreaming I bought the Chrysler Bldg. while Bill gnashed his teeth and moaned, "Hal, you outbid me again."

Well, the next day I picked up the paper and—bless me!—Zeckendorf actually had purchased the Chrysler tower and two other skyscrapers for 52 millions. Since then he has announced plans for a multi-million dollar garage, a 35 million dollar shopping center, and gave away $500,000 to Long Island University as a kind of afterthought.

What can you dream up against a guy like that? Last night I had this nightmare.

"Well, Bill," I said. "I bought Grant's Tomb, the Statue of Liberty, the Eiffel Tower, and the Washington Monument this morning. Think I'll air-condition 'em all—except the Eiffel Tower, of course. What'd you buy today—another Broadway shooting gallery?"

And Bill just quietly tossed over a newspaper that had this headline: "Zeckendorf purchases U. S. Mint, announces plans to modernize currency."

I woke up sweating. Guess I'd better go back to dreaming about old Buffalo Bill. He can't fight back.

Heir to British Throne Is 5

Prince Charley To Become Schoolboy

LONDON (AP) — Chubby Prince Charles celebrates his fifth birthday tomorrow with his life as a schoolboy about to begin.

The little heir to the throne acquired a governess last week. She is Miss Catherine Peebles, 31, former governess of Prince Michael, son of the Duchess of Kent.

British law says every child must start his education by the age of 5—and little Charles is no exception.

At first he will be taught at home. But he may get a crack at public school life by the time he is 10. If he does, he will be the first heir to the throne ever to get the typical schooling of a blue-blooded British boy.

Traditionally, the young sprigs of British royalty are carefully screened in their early years from contact with the outside world.

Queen Elizabeth II was 18 before she mixed with people of her own age at a wartime officer's training course for the Woman's Royal Army Corps. Before that, her education was in the hands of her governess and tutors.

King George VI, the Duke of Windsor and King George V all were 15 before they left their tutors to become cadets at Dartmouth, the navy's training college.

But the Duke of Edinburgh, who attended a preparatory school in England when he was 9, reportedly takes a dim view of tradition swaddling his son.

The young prince, in the opinion of many Britons, would make a better King if he had an early and thorough knowledge of how his subjects live.

Traditionalists, on the other hand, argue that the very specialized knowledge a democratic monarch must have cannot be learned at an ordinary school.

Prince Charles will not have to spend much time studying Latin, mathematics, science and English literature — the main subjects taught in British schools.

But he will have to learn fluent French and German so he can converse easily with foreign notables. He must know the geography of the lands over which he will reign. He will have to delve deeply into economics and social studies, and he should become an expert on constitutional history and government.

Later, perhaps, will come the traditional stint as a naval cadet—although at the moment he shows more interest in soldiers than sailors—and a few terms at either Oxford or Cambridge universities.

Health Board

ed the enforcement of the regulations and setting of the license fee to local boards of health.

Purpose of the establishing the fee is to pay for the cost of inspection of all food service operations and to provide for enforcement of the regulations.

Dr. J. T. Gruber of the Marion Board of Health said the regulation requires that each place which serves food in the city shall be kept clean and that the food be handled and served in a sanitary manner.

Inspection Forms

He said the Board of Health will use an inspection form which will be made out in duplicate. A copy of the form will be given to the operator of the establishment inspected. If defects are found the operator will be given a reasonable period of time to correct them after which a second inspection will be made by the Board of Health.

Failure to comply by the time of the second inspection may result in revocation of the license which in turn will automatically close the establishment until such time as the regulations are complied with, Dr. Gruber said.

Only exceptions to the $25-a-year license fee will be schools, hospitals, churches, and fraternal organizations. Establishments in these categories will be required to pay only one dollar a year, but still must be inspected by the Board of Health.

Other food service establishments which must comply with the regulations and pay the $25 annual license fee include: coffee shops, cafeterias, sandwich shops, short-order shops, luncheonettes, in-plant feeding services, food vending machines services, boarding and transient guest houses, catering services, or any other similar place where meals or lunches are served for a consideration of money.

Applications for the license in Marion will be available at the Board of Health office in the city hall not later than December 20, Dr. Gruber said.

The Marion Board of Health passed the regulation on the recommendation of Health Officer Dr. M. M. Weinbaum.

At the same meeting the Board also adopted a revised milk code. This was to agree with adoption by the State Board of Health of a revision of the 1939 code. Dr. Gruber reported the 1953 revision provides for collection of a license fee of two cents for each 100 pounds of milk processed by dairy farms and milk processing plants. Dr. Gruber said this is no change from present regulations of the Marion Board of Health. This regulation also provides that failure to pay the milk inspection fee or comply with the sanitary regulations of the code may result in withdrawal of permission to distribute milk in Marion, he said.

Grand Jury Hears Pike Slayer Case

GREENSBURG, Pa. (AP) — John Wesley Wable, accused of killing two truck drivers as they slept along the Pennsylvania Turnpike, faced action by the Westmoreland County grand jury today on charges of murder.

Wable, 24, of Ohiopyle, near Uniontown, Pa., is charged with firing fatal shots into Harry F. Pitts, of Bowling Green, Va., and Lester B. Woodward, of Duncannon, Pa. Pitts was slain near the Donegal interchange of the turnpike and Woodward near the Irwin interchange. Both were killed last July.

Wable, who said he didn't have enough money to hire a lawyer, received three court appointed attorneys yesterday.

WOMAN HURT IN FALL

Marion police were called to the rear of the J. C. Penney Co. store on W. Center St. at 7:18 p.m. last night when Mrs. Darville Jenkins of the Woodlawn Addition fell and injured herself. Police said Mrs. Jenkins apparently misjudged the location of the steps leading into the alley from the top of a retainer wall and walked off the wall falling into the alley. Taken to City Hospital in a Gunder ambulance, she was treated for her injuries and released.

Pleasant Group Holds Special Parents' Event

Some 300 parents returned for a short school day at Pleasant School last night.

Novel twist to the Thursday "school day" program was that the parents attended classes while the students stayed home.

The "school day" idea, something new in Marion County, was held in place of the regular PTA meeting and in coordination with National Education Week, Nov. 15-21.

Shortened class periods were held in the classrooms with the parents sitting at the students' desks. In addition to seeing work done by their children so far this year, the parents actually were "in class." The first six grades held two 40-minute sessions while the upper six grades had four 20-minute periods. Reading was stressed in the lower grades, and in all classes the parents acted as pupils with the regular class teacher presenting the lesson. Discussions were held on teaching methods and problems.

Children who did accompany their parents "back to school," were left in charge of the school's home economic department which had planned games in the auditorium and a nursery department.

Even to the detail of school buses, the "school day" was complete. Eleven of the buses made trips to the homes and back to school. Parents who wished to ride the buses were asked to do so.

Preceding the "school day" activities, a half hour general session was held in the school auditorium, when a Pleasant Community meeting was held. Milan Gorby, president of the community meetings, was in charge and Dallas Cornett, Pleasant's vocational agriculture instructor who had charge of the evening's program, introduced and outlined the program. Members of the Board of Education were guides to direct the parents to various classrooms.

Following the "school day", refreshments were served in the school cafeteria.

GIs Like Turnip Greens, Army Poll In Korea Reveals

PUSAN, Korea (AP) — The Army has conducted—in all seriousness—an experiment to find out whether soldiers like turnip greens. The result: The majority did.

One man reported "Suh, ah love them."

The noble survey was made by Maj. R. C. Benson of Little Falls, Minn., to find out what the Army could do to relieve the monotony of meals.

Benson, staff food adviser for the Korean base section, served turnip greens to the officers and men of one headquarters group this week. Only about 30 per cent of the selected group were southereners, with whom that fare is traditional.

Each man was handed a note: "From an objective point of view it is requested that you indicate your relative preference for the turnip greens served you during this meal."

Seventy per cent said they liked them. Twenty per cent didn't care either way. The rest didn't like the idea.

GOP

House exerted no persuasion on the Republican committee members to abandon the project.

It was learned, however, that White House staff members made their views known to GOP members of the House committee, either directly or through intermediaries.

The GOP National Committee also moved into the picture Wednesday.

Reliable sources said Chairman Velde (R-Ill) and the other two Republican members in the city, representatives Clardy of Michigan and Scherer of Ohio, met that night with a "high representative" of the national committee. The meeting was held at Velde's home in nearby Alexandria, Va.

The representative of the national committee reportedly spoke for GOP Committee Chairman Leonard W. Hall and declared in effect that the plan to subpoena Truman was bad politics and might backfire on the Republicans. Since the Senate's internal security subcommittee was investigating the same case—although it had not subpoenaed Truman or Clark—the House members were urged to abandon their plans, this source said.

The committee on Velde's orders had called Truman and other witnesses for questioning about Atty. Gen. Brownell's charges that Truman promoted White early in 1946 despite FBI reports which, Brownell said, described White as a spy for Soviet Russia. Democratic members had protested against the procedure and said they weren't consulted.

The committee changed its plans after the Wednesday night session.

Yesterday morning Velde announced that questioning of Truman, set for today, had been postponed indefinitely.

GEN. DEAN AND FORMER TEACHER. Maj. Gen. William F. Dean, arriving in St. Louis, chats with Mrs. Theodore Gross, one of his teachers when he attended Carlyle, Ill., High School. Gen. Dean was en route to a "home town" celebration in Carlyle on Armistice Day. Feature event was to be the dedication of a bridge renamed in Gen. Dean's honor.

Girl Driver Faces Charge in Fatal Traffic Accident

JoAnne S. Gallina, 17, of 901 York St. will face a second degree manslaughter charge when she is released from Marion City Hospital, state patrolmen reported today. She was the driver of the car in which Joyceann Stoner, 16, of 368 Girard Ave. suffered fatal injuries Tuesday afternoon.

An affidavit charging Miss Gallina with the unintentional killing has been filed in Juvenile Court. The affidavit charges Miss Gallina was driving at a speed of between 70 and 80 miles an hour when the car crashed just west of Green Camp on Route 739.

Patrol authorities indicated charges would not be pressed until the girl is released from the hospital. Her condition is reported as "fairly good" today.

Patrolmen said the case could either be handled entirely in the Juvenile Court or turned over to a grand jury.

The accident which took the life of Miss Stoner happened Tuesday at 12:45 p.m. She died the next morning of cerebral injuries. Three other girls in the car were injured, including the driver, who suffered a fractured leg.

Senator Quizzes 10 More Workers From GE Plant

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP)— Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) summoned into closed hearing today 10 more workers from the General Electric Co.'s Schenectady plant where, McCarthy says, there is a "concentration of Communists."

Seventeen witnesses appeared yesterday before his Senate investigations subcommittee as it opened a probe of "alleged Communist infiltration and alleged espionage" at GE's main plant. The hearing marked McCarthy's first effort to uncover any Red activity in private industry.

Afterward, the senator told newsmen he had heard testimony that:

1. There are no secrets from the Communists at GE.

2. A New York City official of the Communist party once said the Reds had planted a man in the hush-hush Knolls Atomic Power Laboratory, which GE operates for the Atomic Energy Commission.

3. It is well known among Red leaders that the Schenectady plant is a prime target for Communist infiltration and a party cell was established there.

McCarthy did not identify any of the witnesses.

He said all 17 were employed at GE or had worked there, and that 15 were or had been members of Local 301, United Electrical Workers Union (Ind).

Ready-To-Serve Foods Save Time, Not Money

WASHINGTON (UP) — You increase your grocery bill by stocking the market basket with foods partially or wholly prepared. But you save 75 per cent on time.

The Department of Agriculture's Bureau of Human Nutrition and Home economics made a series tests to find the effect of commercial processing of food on home-making. It found that it took 75 per cent less time to prepare two sets of menus with ready-to-serve foods than to prepare the same meals with raw foods or those with a minimum of commercial processing. Meals from the ready-to-serve foods cost 33 per cent more.

SALES METHODS DESCRIBED

An article on Robert McMahon and his sales methods at the Lincoln-Mercury Co. in Marion is in the fall issue of "Lincoln-Mercury Messenger." The magazine, published for dealers and salesmen, features McMahon's ideas for promoting the sale of both new and used cars. McMahon is president of the Marion Lincoln-Mercury Co., Inc.

Driver Succeeds In Avoiding Ducks But Wrecks Auto

One no-injury accident was reported this morning by state patrolmen from the Marion post. The accident happened Thursday morning in Delaware County, less than one mile from the Marion County line.

At 7:20 a.m., Otis R. Congrove, 42, of near Richwood applied the brakes on his car in an effort to avoid hitting a flock of ducks which were walking across State Route 4.

Patrol reports show the car swerved off the road on the right hand side as Congrove was headed south. The car then swerved across the highway and went off on the left hand side.

It tore down about 45 feet of fence, 12 fence posts and a fence gate. The fencing, gate, and ducks were all owned by R. W. Wells of near Richwood.

Congrove was not injured, but the top, front fenders, both sides, and rear wheel of his car were badly damaged.

Diabetes

stores, the committee chairman announced.

DIABETES, the Marion physicians point out, is a chronic ailment characterized by the inability of the body to convert sugars and starches into energy. However, modern medical methods, particularly since the discovery of insulin 32 years ago, have made it readily possible to control diabetes in most cases. The screening tests take only a few minutes and often mean early diagnosis, proper medical controls and the warding off of future complications.

Diabetes, Dr. Wilson said, is one of the few chronic ailments for which there is a known control. Insulin when needed, diet and exercise constitute a three-sided means of control that in nearly all cases will enable the diabetic to live a normal life. Diabetes can be present in the individual for a long time without revealing any alarming symptoms, yet, left untreated, it may grow more serious and prove fatal in time.

THE DIABETES detection test is particularly important for anyone who is overweight, who is past 40, or who has diabetics among his blood relatives. It is a "safety first" measure for anyone, he commented.

Diabetes, if kept under control, need not interfere seriously with the work of the individual who has it. On the other hand, undetected diabetes, even though not severe enough to keep one off the job, may be a serious handicap to the worker.

UNDETECTED diabetics are likely ot feel somewhat under par a good deal of the time. The diabetic may stay on the job, with only occasional days off for illness, but he is never at a peak efficiency.

Most common symptoms of diabetes are excessive thirst, excessive hunger, especially if accompanied by loss of weight; pains in the extremities; excessive urination; itching; changes in vision; frequent and extreme tiredness; slowness of wounds and bruises in healing.

While diabetes appears most often in persons over 40, many younger persons, even children sometimes have it, especially if they are members of diabetic families.

SIGNAL SET AT MT. GILEAD

MT. GILEAD—Three blasts on the fire siren at 8 a.m. will warn Mt. Gilead school children that there will be no school on days when there is inclement weather, according to G. R. Blose, superintendent of the Mt. Gilead schools. He said that arrangements had been made with Mell Geyer, Mt. Gilead fire chief.

Truman Ducks Questioning On White Case

NEW YORK (AP)—Former President Harry S. Truman said today his refusal to honor a congressional subpoena did not necessarily mean he would remain silent on the Harry Dexter White controversy.

He made the remark during his usual pre-breakfast stroll but did not elaborate.

Yesterday Truman rejected the subpoena of the House Un-American Activities Committee on the grounds the executive and legislative branches of the government were separate entities.

The committee had wanted to question Truman about Atty. Gen. Herbert Brownell Jr.'s charge that Truman appointed White, a Treasury aide now dead, American director of the International Monetary Fund despite an FBI report that White was a Russian spy.

Asked if he would accept an invitation to appear before the Senate Internal Security committee as suggested yesterday by Sen. Robert C. Hendrickson (R-NJ), Truman said:

"I haven't been invited. Let's cross that bridge when we come to it. We'll have to wait and see what they have in mind."

Hendrickson had suggested the former president be "invited" to tell his side of the story to the Senate committee.

Actually, Truman parried most questions.

"I wish I could answer all your questions categorically," he said, "but I'm sorry, I can't."

Clark

investigators to him, but set no date.

That left the committee—arguing among itself and reported to be under heavy pressure from the White House and the Republican National Committee — with a mighty tenuous schedule of witnesses and hearings.

Brownell was one witness. Velde and other Republican committee members gave in to their Democratic colleagues' demands yesterday and, by unanimous committee vote, invited—rather than ordered—the attorney general to testify. Brownell accepted, but again no date was set.

Date Also Postponed

Another witness was Jerome Blumauer, who was foreman of a federal grand jury in New York which considered the White case in 1947 but did not hand down an indictment. Velde announced yesterday that Blumauer would testify today, but last night Blumauer's appearance was postponed indefinitely.

A committee source, declining use of his name, said it might be six weeks before the committee got around to Blumauer. This source noted that the committee is "extremely busy," what with subcommittee inquiries scheduled in San Francisco and Philadelphia.

It seemed extremely doubtful that Brownell would testify earlier than the end of next week. The Philadelphia probe, into Reds-in-education, is expected to keep a subcommittee busy on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday.

Velde said he has some further questions to ask Vaughan, who was military aide to Truman, in the wake of the retired major general's testimony yesterday before the Senate internal security subcommittee.

Can't Remember

Vaughan, squinting in the glare of television and newsreel lights, told the senators he couldn't recall seeing any FBI reports on White. But he added that if Brownell said they were sent to him to be brought to the President's attention "I would not question it for a moment."

That was exactly what Brownell did say in the Chicago speech which set off the whole uproar a week ago today.

The effervescent Vaughan, who figured in investigations of influence peddling late in the Truman administration, testified soon after another onetime Democratic official, T. Lamar Caudle, added some details to the charges and countercharges.

Caudle, fired by Truman as an assistant attorney general for "outside activities," testified that in early 1946 he called Clark's attention to an FBI report indicating White was a Communist underground agent.

Caudle said he told Clark "if the facts were true, I hoped he would do what he could to discourage the appointment of White" as U.S. director for the International Monetary Fund.

Reported by Phone

Caudle said he gave this report to Clark by phone while the then attorney general "was over, I think, in Johns Hopkins Hospital getting a physical checkup."

But Robert Morris, committee counsel, said records of the Baltimore hospital show Clark was a patient there between Feb. 15 and Feb. 26, 1946—and White's nomination already had been confirmed by the Senate on Feb. 6 of that year.

Caudle shook his head and said in his soft North Carolina accent that he couldn't explain the discrepancy: "It was eight years ago, Mr. Morris . . . It is just in my mind."

These Days

By George Sokolsky

SOKOLSKY

It used to be that a pound was stabilized at $4.86; a franc, 19 cents, a yen, 50 cents; a ruble, 50 cents and so on around the world. Money could be converted freely into any kind of currency, if you had the money and wanted the other kind. Trade therefore moved from one country to another, paying customs duties in such places as imposed it.

Then, during and after World War I, many moneys went bad and their value became uncertain.

It is true that speculators played exchange, or arbitrage, as it was called, and some made fortunes, but trade generally suffers from bad money because when one places an order in a foreign country he can never be sure what it will cost him in his own money and if he can get paid.

WHEN A CURRENCY goes down, a government usually blocks it, by which is meant that it refuses to allow it to leave the country.

The reason is that the more of it that goes out, the cheaper it gets on international markets. So the man who earns money in a foreign country is asked to spend it there. He is permitted to export a product but not cash.

He can bring in American dollars, but he cannot take out any American dollars or local currency.

Just before World War II I knew of an American company that exported a steel product to Germany. It got paid in marks but could not take the marks out of Germany or convert those marks into American dollars.

This company went into the business of exporting Hartz Mountain canaries to the United States.

Those canaries were then sold to American department stores and pet shops. In that way the American company got paid for its product.

THE AMERICAN motion picture industry has to do that nowadays. They sell American-made pictures all over the world, but in some countries, they cannot take their money out. So they make pictures in those countries, employing local help, which means that a lot of American artists and workers in Hollywood are out of work.

Some of those pictures are shown in this country, if possible.

There is always a great excitement about cutting down tariffs in the United States to get trade moving, but that is only one of the impediments to a free market. A greater one is the inability freely to convert one currency into another.

During the next few years, we shall be hearing about convertibility because that is now being discussed, somewhat quietly, among nations.

THE POLITICIANS are afraid of it because it is a deflationary movement in an inflationary period as any tendency to stabilize money is.

Also, as the gold standard has generally been abandoned, no common denominator exists except the American dollar, which is based on nothing but confidence. In two countries, Switzerland and Canada, the American dollar has been depreciated.

It would be very difficult to put all currencies on a gold standard, because most countries do not have the American dollars to buy gold.

So what is proposed is that an International Stabilization Fund be established upon which the currencies of those countries that would join the fund would be made convertible.

I have heard it discussed that the United States put up somewhere between two and five billion dollars, other countries putting up smaller amounts as their ability would permit.

IT IS THIS Stabilization Fund that frightens our politicians because it will annoy our people.

Although we have become accustomed to talking in billions and putting up billions for this and that, money is such a complicated subject and its workings are so little understood that it is generally expected that the people would resist the proposal.

Actually, anything that is done to make currencies convertible and stable is a move in the right direction.

As long as the world is full of bad money, prices must be abnormally high and international trade out of balance. The United States has been making up other countries' deficits by exporting between five and seven billion dollars a year since the end of World War II in the form of ECA European Military Aid and Point Four because of the economic dislocations arising from bad money.

An International Stabilization Fund making currencies convertible, might help to reduce our contributions to other countries.

Inside Labor

By Victor Riesel

RIESEL

The story is not in Harry Dexter White. The story is in a mystery man, so powerful in the Truman administration that he could come and go through the side doors of the White House—in and out of Harry Truman's personal office.

He was a man so powerful that he protected Harry Dexter White. He planted men in the government who are now proven traitors to the United States. He came within 60 seconds of convincing Harry Truman to wipe out the entire government loyalty program. In fact, Mr. Truman had those papers drawn up, ready for his own signature. He was stopped at the last minute.

THIS MYSTERY man was Harry Truman's personal friend. A score of us know his name. So does the FBI. So does the Justice Department. So does the Civil Service Commission. Mr. Truman himself has said that the man had great influence over him.

Why don't we name him publicly? We can't because the specific proof is in government files and the federal files are White House property.

They can prove it. Perhaps they will soon. But right now there is this fury over Harry Dexter White.

We warned of White 15 years ago. Just as we're warning the nation about the mystery man today. Nobody listened then.

It was smeared as politics just as today's charge is being smeared.

Of course Harry Dexter White was a Soviet agent. There is a group of newsmen, editors and government officials who have for years referred to White as a spy.

WE TOLD cabinet officers, Justice Department officials, labor leaders, Supreme Court Justices, State Department career men and "anonymous" White House secretaries for years. Nobody listened.

They not only ignored us and the FBI. They ignored the Civil Service Commission, whose security files are terrific — full of facts.

This is a flat statement to the effect that the highest government officials, including cabinet officers and the White House, have been aware of these facts since 1935.

They knew that Harry Dexter White was the man who called in Soviet agents from all over the country and planted them as a network in sensitive federal agencies.

Harry Dexter White hired the Russian master mind, N. Gregory Silvermaster, to whom we referred as an agent.

HE WAS a Soviet GPU man in Siberia before he came to the U.S. Silvermaster was working with another man — now living comfortably as an economist in San Francisco — when he got a call from Harry Dexter White. Silvermaster left his teaching job in California and sped to Washington.

Silvermaster was one of a bloc of Soviet economists who worked their way high into our government and so were in a position to affect financial decisions which could make or break other governments. Thus they toppled China.

Silvermaster was described before a congressional committee by Soviet courier Betty Bentley as "the head of the most important and active group" of Soviet agents she contacted regularly.

SILVERMASTER was the transmission link between the Soviets and Harry Dexter White. To make this work easier — and significant of the contempt the Soviet espionage apparatus had for us — Silvermaster got himself a job in the Treasury Department.

The Civil Service Commission files will show that they tried to stop this. They couldn't.

In the early 1940's the Civil Service Commission investigators received word that Harry Dexter White was about to appoint Silvermaster as his adviser for a trip to a vital international parley at Bretton Woods at which the tremendous International Monetary Fund was to be created.

The Soviet agents virtually controlled this intricate multi-billion-dollar operation.

The Commission's investigators went to cabinet officers and sent word to the White House. I know the commission probers sought outside help to stop the appointment.

They said at the time, "We can't get anywhere. Silvermaster's and White's forces are too strong."

SO WHITE WENT to the international conference to speak for the United States. His adviser was Silvermaster, a man who has refused to deny before congressional agencies that he was in espionage.

Later the strategic U.S. Board of Economic Warfare hired Silvermaster. Again the Civil Service Commission tried to stop the promotion of this agent. This time the commission thought it had the power.

It simply refused to approve his transfer from one federal agency to the Board of Economic Warfare. Without that transfer - permit no government employe can switch jobs. But Silvermaster, braintruster for Soviet spy White, could.

How? The Board of Economic Warfare simply "borrowed" him. That's how! Any government agency can do this without the Civil Service Commission approval.

White and another highly placed friend arranged it.

And, you know what? They made Silvermaster, the old boy from Siberia, head of the Russian Section of our Board of Economic Warfare!

Now let's get back to the mystery man!

British Liz

By Laura Hobson

HOBSON

Oh to be in England now that [illegible] $770 will [illegible] Ford! It's called the "Ford Popular" and it's advertised as "the lowest priced car in the world."

"Popular!" Can you imagine any new Ford not being popular at $770? Even with the big British purchase tax tacked on, it still goes for around $1100, and if there's anything that Ford's brilliant engineers can dream up on their drafting boards to make that baby unpopular, I'd like to hear what it could be.

It struck me right away that a whole bunch of nice normal Americans would like to buy a baby Ford or a baby Chevrolet or a baby Plymouth for $770, or even $1100.

What I couldn't figure is why you had to be British to get in on this happy situation. Hadn't they heard of "trade not aid" out there in Detroit? For American drivers, I mean.

I GOT TALKING this out with the automobile salesman who's trying to persuade me it's high time I turned in my 1951 hardtop, and all too clearly his expression said, "How money-mad and cheap can you get?"

[illegible] my curiosity kept boiling, so I appealed to the London Bureau of INS to airmail me a rundown of the facts and some pictures of this new little cousin across the sea.

In front of me now is its photograph. It's called a two-door saloon over there, but I'm telling you it's a two-door sedan. It has the back-sloping radiator so typical of foreign cars and hardly a glimpse of chrome except for the bumpers.

You can "fill it up" with just seven gallons of petrol or gas and they say it averages 40 miles to the gallon.

It holds four people. It has four cylinders, and its horsepower is ten (10).

INSIDE a gearshift angles up from the floor, and the dashboard is largely vacant, having only a small cluster of three dials next to the ignition key, starter and choke. It has, the British folder says, "a one-piece windscreen and wide sweeping wiper giving unobstructed kerb-to-kerb visibility." Also "a spare wheel and tyre, hub caps and . . . those normal amenities expected in a modern British car." The range of colors is black, fawn, blue, or grey.

Normal amenities, I thought, and understood more about why Detroit is not yet handing out these baby cars to us Americans.

Would you be happy with a brand new car that didn't have, say, a heater and a radio and [illegible] two sweeping wipers for "kerb-to-kerb" visibility?

AND HOW about no automatic* shifting and no push button windows and power brakes and power steering? And no electric clock or cigarette lighter or soft armrests or seeing eyes? Not to speak of a dashboard that doesn't offer you as much reading material as your Sunday newspaper.

It just could be that we U. S. drivers are so spoiled about what we can't live without when we plank down that first payment, that no automotive engineers in the country would dare to think of skipping a few amenities just to offer us "a people's car."

The Germans have their little Folkswagon, the Italians have their baby Fiats, the French their small Renaults and Citroens, and the British themselves their baby Austins and Minxes, as well as the new Ford Popular.

But would any of us in the U.S.A. be happy to give up the chrome and the comfort and the cylinders and the fixings, just to get a good new car at "the lowest price in the world"?

I CAN'T answer for your or you, but in case it matters any, I hereby confide in the smoke-filled privacy of this column, that I for one certainly would.

Though I might still crave one of our great American living rooms for long trips, I sure could cotton on to one of these new baby cars for what the teen-age crowd calls "hacking around." And as the mother of one of them, with his first driver's license burning a hole in his pocket and that wild yearning despair in his eye whenever our one car is dated up, I'd thank my stars for a nice new $770 or $1100 way out of what's already brewing in my future.

Pair Caught After Three-Month-Long Phony Check Spree

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—Police arrested Frank Ashworth, 18 and his brother Howard, 27, of Beaver, Utah, while they were doing the samba at the local Arthur Murray dance studio.

The Ashworth boys' samba steps were real hot—but so was the $1,248 check they gave the studio to pay for the lessons.

Police said the pair quickly admitted a "three-month good time spree" by writing worthless checks in 15 states. They were jailed without charge awaiting FBI investigations.

Howard Ashworth explained the check here was for 75 hours of dance lessons for the two of them, adding: "We wanted the complete course. We're good dancers, but there were some Latin steps we wanted to brush up on."

Censors Close Theaters

Burlesque Is On Way Out In Boston After 50 Years

BOSTON (AP)—Boston, a stronghold for burlesque for more than a half century, may never again be thrilled by the tease of the stripper

The Board of Censors yesterday ordered the city's two burlesque theatres—the 108-year-old Old Howard and the larger Casino—closed for the rest of the year because their shows were too dirty

Mayor John B Hynes, as spokesman for the board, said he didn't know whether the licenses would be renewed. And he hinted very broadly that if burlesque is allowed to return, the stripper will have to do a fadeout

Strip-teasers have been outlawed from Boston night clubs for more than two years.

The Old Howard and Casino theatres were ordered closed as a result of a municipal court conviction last week of three strip-teasers and the managers of both theatres on charges they presented and participated in immoral shows

Fines were levied against strippers Rose La Rose (Rosina Dapello, 29, of New York); Irma, The Body (Mary Goodneighbor, 26, of Paterson, N. J) and Helen Russell (Eloise Adams, 26, of Huntington, W. Va) and managers Max Michaels and Frank Engel.

Secret movies made by two Boston police detectives from the theatre balconies helped bring about the convictions.

Dist, Atty. Garrett H Byrne said of the movies:

"They reveal a combination of indecent nudity combined with body motions of a most extreme intensity which have but one purpose—to arouse and excite members of the audience"

Rose La Rose told newsmen "It's a legitimate art, just like any other form of musical expression"

She pulled out a press clipping which termed her the "mistress of suspense, who reveals secrets of the plot bit by bit. She is the plot and unfolds it bump by bump."

Bandit Outwitted First Time but Not Second in St. Louis

ST LOUIS (AP)— Louis A Klute pulled a fast one on a bandit once but it backfired the second time.

Klute, 78-year-old collector for a real estate firm, stepped on a floor button which sounded like a buzzer in a rear room when the bandit entered is office last week. The man fled.

But the same bandit returned yesterday and knew what to expect.

Klute said he was a little farther from the buzzer and the man beat him to it, jerking the wires loose Then Klute was hit on the head

The bandit escaped with $91 from an open safe.

The United States had about 53 million motor vehicles in 1952

Father Who Lost 2 Sons Protests Drafting of Third

RALEIGH, N C. (AP)—J. N. Inman of Columbus County wrote North Carolina selective service headquarters

". . . I want you to know that I lost two sons during World War II. . I feel that I have done enough. I have two sons left and you are about to take one of them If this boy is drafted, I feel will lose my wife from grief and I don't know whether I can stand it or not. The boy about to be drafted is 21 years of age and is married and has one child.

"I will thank you to advise me what I can do Will it do me any good to write or wire the President of the United States, and if I do so, do you believe it will be brought to his attention"

Col. Hugh T. Upton of selective service explained that the laws provides for deferment of an only surviving son where one or more of his brothers was killed in war or died later of injuries suffered in war.

"But you can't help feeling deep sympathy," Upton said of the case.

New Filipino President Has Meteoric Rise

Magsaysay 10 Years Ago Was Captain Of Guerrilla Band

By DON HUTH

MANILA —A blacksmith's son who only 10 years ago was an unknown guerrilla captain battling Japanese invaders of The Philippines is this island republic's third President.

Ramon Magsaysay at 46 is a rising star among democratic leaders in this Communist-threatened part of the world

To millions of Filipinos he is a knight whose shining armor is a bright sport shirt and his charger a bouncing jeep

They turned out in record droves to give him a landslide victory over aging President Elpidio Quirino He takes office for four years on Jan 1.

Handsome, strapping Ramon Magsaysay is not a seasoned politician But many political observers agree that his honesty and almost limitless energy coupled with the fresh vision of youth, may make him an outstanding presidential administrator.

He demands results, not reasons or excuses.

As national defense secretary in the Quirino government he mercilessly slashed through red tape to get immediate action.

In fighting Communist-led Huks he spent as much time in the field as in his office He drafted elaborate plans for resetting thousands of Huks on newly developed lands on Mindanao island And he finally split with Quirino eight months ago after trying vainly to speed up action against Huk bands

As defense secretary Magsaysay traveled widely, listening to complaints and meting out justice on the spot. He rooted out corruption in the army and constabulary ruthlessly.

His explosive temper lashed subordinates who moved too slowly.

He became known throughout the 7,000 islands, and Filipinos began to look on him as a champion of the common people.

Two enemies of the United States during World War II gave him his chance to run for the presidency after he split with Quirino and bolted the Liberal party eight months ago.

Sen. Jose P Laurel, President of the Philippines under the Japanese and Claro M Recto Laurel's foreign minister, brought Magsaysay into the opposition Nacionalista party. Laurel withdrew as a presidential candidate and threw his support to Magsaysay.

These two men are expected to play major roles in the new government.

Magsaysay also will be able to call on veteran Carlo P Romulo, former ambassador to Washington and U N. delegate, who broke with Quirino, ran for president himself and finally cast his lot with Magsaysay.

The new Philippines President is a strong friend of the United States and is expected to strengthen the ties between the young republic and the country that gave it its independence.

Magsaysay stands nearly six feet and weighs about 170 He is built like a wrestler, seldom drinks and never smokes He is highly nervous and continually cracks his knuckles, twirls his glasses or fidgets with a handkerchief.

Program of the George Washington school PTA meeting there Tuesday night centered around the school lunch program.

Mrs Lowell Williams, a parent and faculty member of the school, gave a talk on the duties of the teachers during the lunchroom period, the menu and nutritional benefits of the meals served and duties of the children participating in the lunchroom program. She closed her talk with two humorous poems on lunchroom subjects.

A talk also was given by Harold Edwards, director of education in the city schools. Mrs Garland Winters told of the scholarship fund sponsored by the PTA City Council and films were shown by Harold Carroll of the school family picnic held last May

During a short business meeting a plea was made for clothing for the needy children of the city and it was announced that anyone wishing to contribute clothing could bring it to the school and it would be turned over to the City PTA Council

Mrs George Baisley, program chairman, introduced Marvin Ludwig, youth director at the YMCA who gave a talk on drawing, illustrating his talk with sketches which members of the audience copied

Parents were shown the manner in which their children entered the lunchroom at noon each day and refreshments were served there

An ensemble composed of Cynthia Moore, Velida Weigle Joan Krauter, Joyce Walker, Evelyn Price Ann Shephard, Ann Arthur and Margie Firstenberger, students for Harding High School, furnished music.

Green Camp Lions Plan Family Christmas Party

Merle Lashey Jr., Edward Pfeiffer and John Haberman were named members of a general committee to arrange for the Christmas party for members of the Green Camp Lions Club and their families.

A. E Haberman will head the club sales tax redemption committee Each member will be required to bring a quantity of sales tax stamps to each meeting or be subject to fine by the tail twister.

Lion Norman D Withrow was named to contact the management of Marion Barons Hockey team regarding sales of tickets to games with the club getting a percentage of the sales.

Donald C. Tucker, Donald Crowe, Kenneth Hedges and Clyde O. Povelson were guests. They were introduced by Edwin Schwaderer. The dinner was prepared and served by the Green Camp Pythian Sisters.

The board of directors will meet following the Nov. 24 meeting.

Man Gets 45 Years In Florida Prison For Attacking Boy

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla. (AP)—Winston H Morse entered the Florida State Penitentiary today to begin a 45 year sentence for the torture attack on 8-year-old Bruce Strandhagen.

The 34-year-old Salem, Mass cook pleaded guilty yesterday to charges of lewd and lascivious assault and attempted murder, and Criminal Judge W. T. Kennedy gave him the maximum sentence allowed by the law.

Morse told police he was convicted three times in Massachusetts for attacks on small boys but that each time he was released on probation as "feeble-minded but harmless"

Morse lured the Strandhagen boy into his room the night of Nov. 2 and tortured him by sticking 17 four-inch needles into his body. Doctors removed one needle from Bruce's heart muscles and another from a lung

The boy, son of Dr and Mrs Harry Strandhagen also was choked beaten and sexually attacked He is recovering now but for days was given only a 50-50 chance to survive

$3-Dollar Bill Is Real Even Though It's Friday the 13th

LOUISVILLE, Ky (AP)—Anything may turn up on Friday the 13th, including a $3 bill It's genuine

Such assurances from the Treasury Department were welcome news to Wilson K Beatty. The attorney has a client—not identified—who put up $500 for the bill then began wondering about its authenticity.

He was told the certificate, about the size of today's greenbacks was issued on government authority by the Mechanics Bank of Georgetown, D C, Nov 26, 1852 Printed only on one side, it has a bald eagle on the face and a symbol of the 13 original states

Now that Beatty knows the bill isn't counterfeit, he's carrying it clipped to a small poster which asks:

"What's so queer about a three dollar bill?"

MARION, OHIO, "A BUICK TOWN"

Mrs. Estelle Armstrong Is Mayor

Woman Heads Government in LaRue

By EVELYN KRISTOFF

"You have to pay if you disobey" is the guiding philosophy of Estelle Armstrong who this week was certified as mayor of the Village of LaRue.

The woman mayor who is unique in the Marion area, became acting mayor of LaRue several weeks ago when the village council asked her to step in when the post became vacant through the resignation of the mayor.

LONG ACTIVE in the Democratic party Mrs Armstrong three years ago was honored by the presentation of a 30-year scroll in recognition of her years of active participation in women's activities.

Dated Sept 23 1950 the inscription reads "In recognition of meritorious service performed by Mrs Estelle Armstrong in the best interest of her country and the Democratic party as a pioneer woman worker in the party since the inception of the amendment granting suffrage to women."

During those 30-some years that Mrs Armstrong has been active in politics she has strongly adhered to her belief that everyone should become interested in good government."

SHE IS ROUNDING out her second year as a state central committeewoman of the 8th Congressional District and is also on the central committee of the village. Her husband Harry Armstrong good-naturedly described her as a "goer and joiner."

Comments like "Imagine a woman running for mayor" which reached her ears before the May primaries didn't stop her from her course.

Her belief in her responsibilities as a citizen was vividly illustrated recently when she turned down a $100-per-plate Democratic dinner in Chicago for which she had been sent a ticket in order to be sworn in as a member of the village council.

"After all, I live here" she explained.

THINGS HAPPENED rather fast that evening she recalled.

First she was a made a member of council.

Then she was named acting mayor by Council.

"That was a pretty big order" she said but told Council she was willing to tackle it.

LaRue's first woman mayor is sold on her lovely little town. She, as her father before her, was born in LaRue. For a time she lived in Toledo but returned a number of years ago.

WHAT DOES her husband think of his wife being the mayor? He's one of her staunchest supporters and believes that more women should become interested in government. He works out of the state auditor's office.

She took her office as mayor seriously. Soon after being sworn in she visited nearby towns to learn the duties of a mayor. And she studied the general code of the state and the village ordinances.

On the local scene she had heard traffic conditions were out of hand downtown in the village which boasts about 800 residents. So she went downtown, parked, and just watched.

SHE SOON found that drivers were parking on sidewalks forcing pedestrians to walk in the streets thus increasing the traffic hazards. So she decided she might as well start "laying down the law."

Mayor Armstrong called the village marshal and directed him to set up "no parking" areas along the congested portions of the streets. These areas were designated by painting the curbs yellow.

The next day the marshall called the mayor and said he had issued two tickets to two drivers who had disregarded the yellow lines. One of the violators—both were women—was a teacher and the other was a close friend of the mayor's.

But this didn't mean a thing to Mayor Armstrong as she applied her motto. Both had to pay their tickets.

Probers Outraged As 10 Witnesses Decline To Talk

PITTSBURGH (AP)—A Senate investigator probing the extent of Communist infiltration into western Pennsylvania unions terms "shocking" the refusal of 10 witnesses associated with one labor organization to say if they are Communists.

The organization is the Independent United Electrical Workers Union which was expelled from the CIO in 1949 on the ground it was Communist dominated. This union was the primary target of the probe.

Sen John M Butler (R Md) head of a task force of the Senate internal security subcommittee said at the windup of a three-day hearing yesterday:

"It is indeed a shocking situation when so many men in one organization hide behind the Fifth Amendment of the Constitution and decline to say if they are members of the Communist party."

Daily News at Ironton Sells Out to Courier

IRONTON Ohio (AP)—The Ironton Courier today announced it has purchased the circulation, advertising lists and good will of the Ironton Daily News.

The News in a simultaneous announcement said it would cease publication with this morning's issue.

The deal thus leaves Ironton, a city of 16,000 population with two daily newspapers the morning Courier and the evening Ironton Tribune. The Courier is the only seven-day paper in Lawrence County.

In a front-page editorial the Courier said the suspension of the News was brought about by high cost of production, direct competition and the lack of proper equipment.

The Ironton Publishing Co publishers of the Courier said former subscribers of the Ironton News will begin receiving the Courier starting with tomorrow's morning issue.

The News established in 1899 resumed publication in March after a six months suspension. The paper was purchased by the Ironton News Publishing Co headed by Paul A Pratt and his brother J Earl Pratt.

The Courier was established June 29 [illegible]

In [illegible] merger in [illegible] the News and Courier combined Aug 1. The merger was dissolved two days later.

Consideration involved in the transaction was not disclosed.

Give 3 Gallons Each

Blood Donor Champs Glad To Serve

Six gallons of blood can go a long way in the treatment of sick and injured military personnel and civilians That's the amount donated by two Marion men in the blood drive of the American Red Cross.

Roy Waddell and John Wilhelm each gave three gallons of their blood, mainly out of the spirit of patriotism. With their last donations, each man joined the exclusive Three Gallon Club of the Red Cross

FOR WADDELL, the last donation was the end of the line He recently reached age 60 and so is no longer eligible to give under Red Cross regulations

Wilhelm, though, is only 35 and has indicated he will be one of the leading donors in the area for some time to come

Neither man said he felt any pain or discomfort at giving blood Waddell said he wanted to give more, but had to follow the rules

Both indicated they had no other special reason for giving than patriotism. They said they thought it would be the patriotic thing to do, especially since there was no inconvenience nor pain involved in the process.

THE TWO MEN are the first in Marion County to reach the three gallon mark in this campaign conducted since the beginning of the Korean war Both started donating about the beginning of 1949 and have made five trips each year to the blood center

In Marion blood donations are taken about once a month at the recreation room of the First Presbyterian Church Appointments to give blood are made through the local Red Cross office

Besides his three gallons given in the last five years, Waddell also has nine other contributions during World War II on his record He says that donating blood is almost a habit with him now

Under Red Cross regulations, donors may give blood five times each year until they reach the age of 60 Waddell expressed disappointment at the regulations which stop him from giving, but admits they are for his best interests.

ALL 48 PINTS given by the two men are credited to Marion County. Waddell gave one pint while on vacation in Columbus but that also was credited to the Marion County chapter, giving the local unit a boost in its record. Wilhelm gave all 24 pints at the Bloodmobile visits

Wilhelm gave his last pint in September Waddell, who says he had given so often he couldn't keep his donations in order, believes he made his last in July or August.

Waddell is employed as secretary of the Home Federal Savings and Loan Association. He is married and has three children. They are Roy Waddell Jr Mrs Mary Payette, and Mrs Marjorie Corwin He and his wife, Margaret, live at 280 Summit St

Wilhelm is employed as a bookkeeper at the Danner Buick Co and lives at 919 Mt. Vernon Ave He is single

Bible Words to Live by

2 CORINTHIANS 5:19—"God was in Christ reconciling the world to himself ..." (RSV)

* * *

These powerful and penetrating words of St. Paul have proved spiritually satisfying to people in every situation. Our condition is one of lostness. We have been separated from our Creator and from each other. As we stand alone we tremble with fear because we can do nothing to help ourselves. There is an evil power over us which incites us to every kind of division. When we examine ourselves we find in us nothing but sin and death and meaninglessness.

But into this turbulence comes a quiet word, a throbbing word, which causes us to catch our breath. Now in our stillness we hear God calling us back to himself. No more need we be frustrated by our sense of guilt—God has given us freely the justification we need to return to his fellowship. No more need we fear the finality of death—God has broken death's bands and eternal life is our destiny. No more need we wander like a rudderless ship on an endless sea—God has revealed in Christ that the meaning of life is love.

YMCA To Change Activities Schedule

Changes in the schedule of activities at the YMCA will take effect Monday. Marvin Ludwig, youth secretary who announced the changes, said they were made necessary because of the increase in participation and defects found in the old schedules.

Ludwig said the changes were made for three reasons to make sure all younger children are in and out of the building at the earliest possible hour each day; to have the minimum number of children in any one group so that YMCA directors can give the child individual guidance and instruction, and to eliminate as much mass activity as possible in all areas of the building.

THE SCHEDULE HAS been arranged now to give children in the rest of the county an opportunity to use the facilities of the building on Saturdays

Certain changes in the regulations were also announced by Ludwig Membership cards should now be carried at all times The membership card and one dime must be deposited when using game room equipment. Both the card and money will be refunded when the equipment is returned

Towels and soap are available for 10 cents Swimming suits may no longer be worn as gymnasium suits. This measure is taken in an effort to keep the pool clean

ANOTHER REGULATION designed to preserve the cleanliness of the pool is that girls and women must wear bathing caps while swimming The object is to keep the pool filters clear of hair.

Beginning Monday, craft classes will be more organized with basket weaving lessons being given by Mrs. Patricia Spangler. The Gra-Y touch football season will close next week with two playoff games on Tuesday and Thursday.

Ludwig emphasized the program for county children on Saturdays He said members could spend the entire day at the YMCA if they so desired In the morning there are regularly scheduled activites for the younger groups except junior and senior high school girls These girls can, however, use the facilities of the game room or other places which are not in use At noon, the lunch room is open and available to members, and free movies start at 1 30.

THE GRADE SCHOOL girl classes, which were formerly divided into four groups, have been combined into two groups Grade school girls group one will include all girls aged eight and nine Group two will include all girls aged 10 and 11.

Following is the revised schedule for Monday, arranged according to the different groups and activities Schedules for the other days in the week will be published in subsequent editions of The Star.

Ohio Could Double Coal Production, Report Says

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio's coal production, which was lower last year than in 1923, could double by 1975, says Marian S Klein of the state division of geological survey.

Ohio coal production in 1952 totaled 35,487,231 tons. On the basis of an estimate by the President's Materials Policy Commission, Klein says a normal increase should bring Ohio's tonnage to 58,620,000. In addition, he estimates Ohio will produce three million tons annually for atomic energy plants.

Then, because of Ohio advantage in location close to industry and the advantage of being able to strip coal from the surface of the earth, he says production of coal in this state could increase another nine million tons annually.

Altogether, coal production in Ohio could reach 70,720,000 tons annually by 1975, Klein says.

He cautions "depressing factors" might develop to lower this figure.

Klein's estimates are published in a comprehensive "annual coal and non-metallic mineral report" for 1952 issued by State Director of Industrial Relations Margaret A. Mahoney.

Three Ohio counties produced more than half the total for the state in 1952. They are Belmont, with 8,730,192 tons, Harrison 5,832,424 and Jefferson 4,726,581. Mine fields in all three are within 30 miles of the Ohio River, mainly on the big "Pittsburgh No 8 seam."

The three-county total was 19,289,197 tons, a little less than half of which was from strip mines. The value of this coal at the mine was $76,117.62, compared with $132,190,062 for all coal produced in Ohio in 1952.

Production in other coal counties:

Athens 795,956, Carroll 301,314, Columbiana 1,184,917, Gallia 638,591, Guernsey 47,002, Hocking 86,063, Holmes 4,766.

Jackson County 578,981, Lawrence 246,640, Mahoning 722,730, Meigs 534,578, Monroe 10,000, Morgan 33,321, Muskingum 1,341,999, Noble 1,866,647, Perry 2,376,324, Portage 191,991, Stark 1,034,069, Tuscarawas 2,264,075, Vinton 220,704, Washington 167,797 and Wayne 101,098.

The report predicts strip mining still has not reached its peak in Ohio. In 1948, 52.4 per cent of Ohio coal was strip mined. In 1952, 61.1 per cent was strip mined.

Of 691 mines reporting last year, 289 were strip mines. The amount of coal strip mined in 1952 increased slightly, even though the total amount of coal mined by all methods decreased 2,329,477 tons.

No figures are given on Ohio's total coal reserves. However, an indication of the extent of the reserves is provided by a summary of a detailed report on "Meigs Creek No. 9" seam. Reserve in this seam are estimated at four billion tons, of which less than 1 per cent has been exhausted.

"The four billion-ton reserve in this one coal bed alone amounts to more than twice the total of all coal mined since Ohio entered the Union 150 years ago. The remaining reserves in the Meigs Creek Bed are believed to be the largest in any of Ohio's easily available coal deposits, except perhaps the Pittsburgh No 8 seam."

There has been a 400 per cent increase in mining from the Meigs Creek Bed in the past eight years. Nine mines in Noble County last year took nearly 1½ million tons of coal from this seam.

Statistics on coal mine fatalities since 1921 show a steady decline both in the number of fatal accidents and the number of fatalities per million tons mined. In 1921 there were 108 fatalities for an average of 3.4 per million tons mined. In 1952 there were 16 fatalities for an average of 4 million tons.

Father Wants Child Excused From School

NORRISTOWN, Pa. (AP)—A father who says he already spent $10,000 on the career of his 11-year-old ballerina daughter is suing to get her excused from school one afternoon a week for dancing lessons.

George Rapine, proud father of dancing Betty Anne, instructed his attorney, Leonard F. Markel, yesterday to sue the school board of nearby Conshohocken.

The board recently ruled that pretty, blue-eyed Betty Anne could no longer be absent from her fifth grade classes at public school to attend dancing lessons in New York Wednesday afternoons.

The youthful ballerina is no ordinary child, her father said. She has appeared on the New York stage and at the Steel Pier in Atlantic City. He said the only time open for her on the New York dancing instructor's schedule is Wednesday afternoon.

This is her third year of dancing instruction.

Her father, a rigging contractor, said Betty Anne attended the Miquon School, a private institution near her home the first year. Last year she transferred to the Conshohocken public school.

Since Rapine had already paid her dance tuition, Dr. Robert C Landis, Montgomery County superintendent of schools, decided she could cut classes Friday afternoon—her dance schedule at that time.

School officials said this year is another matter. Betty Anne has used up the six half holidays permitted under the school code and the board solicitor, Stanley B Cooper, said the board has no right to grant further absences.

Plastics Plant Plans Location At Kenton Site

Special to The Star

KENTON — A 70-acre site on Route 68, south of Kenton, has been chosen as the location for a new plastic plant.

The announcement was made at the board of directors' meeting of the Durez Plastics and Chemicals Inc. of North Tonawanda, N. Y. Manufacture of phenolic molding compounds is to be carried on at the Kenton plant which is expected to be constructed within eight months. Some 100 persons are expected to be hired at the plant which will literally be a push-button operation.

The plastic plant will bring to Kenton the entirely new process, which was developed by Durez during the past five years. It is anticipated that the annual production of the plant will exceed 64 million pounds.

The Kenton site was chosen because it is the geographical center of the company's expanding midwestern market. Transportation facilities available in Kenton also influenced the selection.

Durez Plastics and Chemicals Inc. is the largest producer of phenolic resins and plastic molding compounds exclusively in the United States. Molding compounds, which will be the product manufactured at the Kenton plant, represent the largest portion of the company's business.

New Hearing Granted In Deportation Case

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — The government has granted a new hearing to Frank Milano, a former Cleveland bootleg figure now fighting a deportation action.

Arthur Talbott, Buffalo hearing officer for the U. S. Immigration and Naturalization Service, said he had agreed to accept new evidence offered by Milano. A date for the hearing has not been set.

The government contends the 82-year-old native Italian lost his citizenship by remaining in Mexico for more than five years.

Man Hits Ex-Wife With Hatchet After Fuss Over Alimony

CLEVLAND (AP) — An assault charge lies ahead of 54-year-old Florentine Perna for whacking his wife with a hatchet in a common pleas court room. The judge was to decide today whether city or county authorities should prosecute.

The blunt end of a 13-inch steel camper's ax Perna pulled from inside his clothing hit his wife, Antoinette, 49, on the forehead, causing a gash that took nine stitches to close.

The assault occurred yesterday after Judge Harry A. Hanna had ordered Perna sent to county jail for contempt of an alimony order. He was nine months in arrears with $20 monthly payments.

While the bailiff was making out commitment papers to jail Perna, he started back into the courtroom, saying, "I'm going to get my hat." Then he dashed at his wife and chopped at her.

Pastor of Iberia, Martel Churches Talks to Gideons

Speaker at a meeting of the Marion Camp of Gideons and the auxiliary Tuesday night at the Oakland EUB Parish House was Rev. C. C. Whetstone of the Iberia and Martel Methodist Churches. Other guests present for the potluck supper and meeting were Mrs. Laura Zachman and Mrs. Lula Corwin of Marion.

Rev. Whetstone spoke on the Bible as a "treasure" and likened it to a precious stone for value and durability. "The only way that anyone discovers the value of the Scripture is by appropriating it to himself," he declared. "To understand the Bible we should become acquainted with the 'author' not only intellectually, but in a very spiritual way. It is a wonderful thing to go out and distribute the Scriptures, but it is more wonderful to have some portions of it hidden in our hearts." Prayers were by Max Graham and Paul Cyders.

Separate business sessions were held by the camp and the auxiliary in charge of the presidents, Sheridan Severns and Mrs. Harry Crowner, respectively. For the auxiliary meeting Miss Mary Jo Stafford had devotions and Mrs. Melvin Shattuck offered prayer. It was decided to recheck offices of physicians and dentists for names of nurses and aides for distribution of testaments to those who have not previously been given Gideon copies. The place of the next meeting will be the community rooms of the West Town Branch of National City Bank on W. Center St., with dinner preceding. The committee in charge Tuesday night included Mrs. Clifford Ward, Mrs. George Bensley, and Mrs. Max Graham.

Amish Victims Of Holdup, Holmes County Police Say

DOVER, Ohio (AP)—Holmes County police said today two youths have been victimizing Amish men driving old-fashioned horse buggies in the Mount Hope-Winesburg district.

A series of four robberies reported, two of them last night, netted the youths about $25, according to Holmes County Sheriff Clarence Dieringer.

In each case, the sheriff said an automobile swerved across the path of an Amish buggy and a black-haired youth, about 22 and wearing a red Bandana across his face, jumped out and held up the Amish with a shot gun or rifle.

Kid Gavilan Remains Solid Choice To Keep Crown

Bratton Rated On Short End Of 8-5 Listing

CHICAGO (AP) — Kid Gavilan, razor sharp and making the 147 pound weight limit without a strain, is a solid 8-5 choice to retain his welterweight championship tonight against a threatening and determined Johnny Bratton.

The 15 round fight, promising to be a scorcher, will be televised (NBC) and broadcast (ABC) nationally starting at 10 p.m. EST. The Chicago area is blacked out on TV, boosting the Chicago Stadium crowd to an expected 17,000 with a net gate of about $130,000.

Bratton, who at 26 has been in the ring professionally for nine years, will receive 20 per cent of the net and $10,000 from a TV cut — in all approximately $36,000 that should get him out of hock after a [illegible] spree as a teen-age phenom.

Gavilan, making his seventh defense of his crown since taking a 15 round decision from Bratton, then the NBC [illegible] in New York two years ago, will get 40 per cent of the net gate and TV.

It will be the third meeting of the two. Gavilan became the third fighter to fracture Bratton's jaw in their first scrap and Bratton also broke his hand in that maul. Later in 1951 they met in an overweight nontitle bout at Chicago Stadium that was ruled a draw. Gavilan claimed he was a victim of a home town decision. "I['ll] whip him for sure [illegible] this time [illegible]

Interest in the Cuban Hawk's defense is hampered by his [illegible] in September against Carmen Basilio. Basilio scored a knockdown and Gavilan was hard pressed to get a decision.

Gavilan had to shed eight pounds in two weeks to make the 147 pound weight for Basilio. This time he has trained faithfully and should have no excuses if he loses.

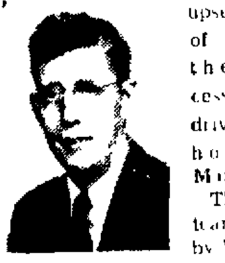
In 112 fights only Ike Williams and Basilio have floored the Kid. Bratton has been down only once, [illegible] by a guy named Robert [illegible] in 1945. He got up and chilled [illegible] in the same round the third [illegible]

If Bratton ever needs a victory it's now. He knows he has everything to gain and a loss would [illegible] him back into the category of just another welterweight on the [illegible] circuit.

SHORT SPORTS

By John Short

Morral basketball fans were a little shaky Tuesday night when the Wildcats opened their 1953-54 cage campaign. The Cats, who last year were upset a couple of times in their unsuccessful title drive, opened at home against Marseilles.



SHORT

The Morral team, coached by Vern Hensel, was shooting for its 20th straight win at home and the fans feared the streak was about to be snapped. The last loss at home occurred in 1951 when [illegible] dumped the Morral squad.

Since that time Morral has been unbeatable at home for Marion County teams as well as foes from outside the county.

One big cause for the fear by Wildcat fans was the fact that Jim Shifflet, returning regular from last year, was out. Shifflet underwent an appendix operation soon after practice opened and will not return until December.

During the early stages of the game it looked as though the fears were well grounded. Marseilles [illegible] in the first [illegible] period and Morral managed to squeeze to a 28-27 halftime lead. When John Cr[illegible] and Junior Bell hit for quick goals in the first [illegible] seconds in the third stanza the fans began to relax. The Cats raced to a 46-38 lead and the team backers figured the rout was on.

And they were right. Bill Cray, [illegible] Ted Murphy, Clair Hensel and Charles Rice began pouring it on. Twenty-four points were poured through the hoop to give the Morral squad a 20-point bulge, 70-50.

The team, sporting new uniforms, was led onto the floor by a newly adopted mascot, a pupil dressed as a Wildcat. He carried signs urging support from the townspeople for the cage crew.

Despite the win, Hensel is still worried. Two of the toughest teams on the schedule move in for the second and third home games. Iberia, Morrow County sharpshooters, meets the Wildcats tonight, while Sulphur Springs, perennial Crawford County power, moves in next Tuesday.

Hensel had more bad news for the fans yesterday. In addition to Shifflet, Murphy probably will miss the action at least tonight. He [illegible] up with a foot infection. [illegible] loss will rob the Wildcats of one of their fastest men and a top flight defender.

North Carolina Hopes To Stop Rout by Irish

By WILL GRIMSLEY

CHAPEL HILL, N. C. (AP)—North Carolina is counting on Dick Lackey's toe to prevent a complete rout at the hands of Notre Dame, the country's No. 1 football team, here tomorrow.

Lackey, 21-year-old senior from Shelby, N. C., is the Tar Heels' ace punter, the best in the United States at his specialty with an average of better than 44 yards for seven games. An adept quick kicker, he [illegible] 84 yards last week in the 18-0 loss to South Carolina.

"We have worked and worked trying to set up defenses for this team," said George Barclay, North Carolina head coach. "Then we [illegible] pictures and just [illegible]

On the blackboard you can design ways to stop John Lattner and Neil Worden, but out on the field they [illegible] pound you to death with three and four yards at a time.

Maybe Lackey's kicking can slow them down some."

On the surface the football game here tomorrow is one of the season's gross mismatches. The unbeaten and untied Irish rate anywhere from 27 to 34 points over a team that has lost its last four starts by one-sided margins.

"This Notre Dame is one of the greatest college teams of all times," added Barclay. "It is [illegible] deep in good personnel and [illegible] It's a poised, confident team that seems able to score whenever it [illegible]

"Our boys are up for it, sure, just as any team would be against the nation's No. 1 team. They think they may be able to wipe out a disappointing season with an outstanding performance. But we haven't the men, I'm afraid, to do it."

Nevertheless, the Tar Heels are giving it the full try. Their locker room is plastered with pictures of Lattner, the Notre Dame cover boy, and Worden, the fullback who leads the team's ground gainers with 407 yards.

Fremont Ross, Massillon Play For State Title

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Fremont Ross gets its chance for gridiron glory tonight as the title-tenanted Giants go against Massillon's five-time state champions in the high school game of the week.

Chuck Mather's champions ride a[illegible] eight-game winning streak to match Fremont's record [illegible] atop the weekly Associated Press poll with the Giants in fifth place.

On paper it looks like a whale of a match, and some 20,000 fans—including more than 5,000 from Fremont—will view it. The Tigers have outscored the foe 351 to 41 while Fremont has a 354-[illegible] point record. Massillon probably has played the tougher schedule.

Bowling Green, Ohio U. Game Tops in State

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — With the final whistle soon to blow on the 1953 college football season some important contests are coming up for Ohio schools.

The Mid-American Conference championship will be decided at Athens tomorrow, with Ohio U. host to the Bowling Green Falcons. The Bobcats need a victory to clinch the title. If they lose, Miami will be on top of the league.

In the Ohio Conference two big games are scheduled: Ohio Wesleyan (3-0) against Wittenberg (2-3) and Akron (4-0) against the 1952 champs, Heidelberg (3-1-1). If Akron and Wesleyan win, the league championship will hinge on their Nov. 21 contest. They are the only unbeaten teams in the 14 college league.

Ohio State, eliminated as a Big Ten and Rose Bowl contender by last week's loss to Michigan State, meets Purdue's Boilermakers. Purdue beat Michigan State 6-0 but that was the only Boilermaker victory of the year. Some 80,000 persons are expected to see the game at Ohio Stadium.

Defiance, the state's only unbeaten, untied team, goes against Centre College on the Kentucky gridiron [illegible]

[illegible] only seven games remain to be played [illegible] of them are scheduled for Thanksgiving Day.

JIM DUGAN'S

Injuries Hamper Harding and St. Mary

Prexies in Worst Condition Of Campaign for Final Tilt

Harding High School's Presidents close out the 1953 grid season tonight at Sandusky and, in addition to the Friday the 13th jinx, will be crippled worse than at anytime this season.

Coach Pete Howison describes his team as being 'in an awful shape.' In addition to injuries received in last week's battle against Fremont, the prexies have been hit by practice bumps and illness.

Latest casualty is Bob Prater, defensive stalwart who was out of school yesterday with the flu. He is on the doubtful list along with four other starters

Bob Hamor, Harding's candidate for All-Ohio honor , and Fred Price are slowed by back troubled. Hamor holds down a tackle berth while Price alternates at quarterback and is a defensive halfback Whitey Clinger, guard, is shaking off a severe charles horse and won't be at full speed while Jim Whaley is out with a foot cut suffered in practice

Bob Stauffer also has joined the injury list. Howison described his trouble as a 'slow beating' which has covered the entire season. Loss of Hamor, Clinger and Stauffer would rob Howison of the entire right side of his offensive line.

However, part of the injured gridders may see action. Clinger was given no chance of playing by the coach. Hamor has been taking whirlpool treatments and may be able to start and Whaley and Stauf-fer might see some action. Price will probably be ready for limited duty but will not be able to go at top speed.

Seven seniors will be ending their high school careers They include Whaley, Bob Pryor, Clinger Hamor, John Obenour, the Prexies' place kicking ace, and Hardings' top-flight defensive backfield pair, Price and Doug Bibler

Harding goes into the game at Sandusky with a much more impressive record than the one held by the Blue Streaks The Prexies have won five while dropping a pair and tieing another. The Streaks have two wins against five losses and a tie. The two wins came over East Liverpool 14-6 and Elyria 14-0. Only two common opponents have been met by the two squads. Fremont Ross whipped Harding 32-14 and downed the Streaks 19-7. The other foe was Findlay, blasted 27-0 by the Prexies while Sandusky held the trojans to a scoreless tie.

Pro Football Hails Court's Ruling on TV

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—A ruling by a federal judge that the National Football League legally can restrict television coverage of its games left the professional sports world in a state of happy confusion today.

Both football and baseball circles appeared gratified over the first portion of a four-part decision yesterday by U. S. District Judge Allan K. Grim.

Judge Grim—acting two days after the U. S Supreme Court ruled professional baseball is a sport and therefore not subject to the nation's anti-trust laws—held that the NFL has the right to ban television of league games into other league cities when home teams are playing

NFL Commissioner Bert Bell hailed the ruling and Ford Frick, commissioner of baseball, said "it is a fine ruling for football."

Jim Carruthers Defends Title in Australia Ring

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—World bantamweight champion Jimmy Carruthers, a slick dancer from Australia, held his title by a decision as he deftly boxed down Pappy Gault of Spartanburg, S C., in a 15-round fight at Sydney, broadcast today by the Australian radio.

At the end only a knockout could have won for the shorter, stockier American, said the broadcast heard in San Francisco.

A crowd estimated at 25,000 roared as the tiny fighters battled down to the end in the outdoor arena at the Sydney sport ground under warm skies.

Gault weighed 173¾, Carruthers 117½.

Bucks Given 14-Point Edge In Bid To End Purdue Jinx

By FRITZ HOWELL

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio State's twice-beaten Bucks wind up their at-home football chores tomorrow, favored by 14 points over Purdue's Boilermakers who have only one victory in seven starts

A crowd of around 80,000, more than enough to set a new five game record for the Ohio Stadium, is assured

Despite the Purdue record, and the fact the Boilermakers will present a makeshift lineup because of a flock of injuries, the 14-point "give" could be out of line.

In the last five Buck-Boilermakers games, with Ohio entering each as the favorite, Purdue has emerged with four victories and a tie while outscoring the Scarlet and Gray 124 to 68 Only once in the five games did Ohio go over the two-touchdown mark, and Purdue won that one 24-20 in 1947

Stu Holcomb, Ohio State alumnus new coach at Purdue, made his lone conquest a big one this season He upset Michigan State 6-0 ending the Spartans' 28-game winning streak two weeks before Michigan State wrecked Ohio State's Big Ten and Rose Bowl chances with a 28-13 victory.

Holcomb brings his team to town today, and the Boilermakers will work out at the stadium during the afternoon, as will the Bucks.

The visitors will have an edge in weight, but the experience and speed advantage must go to Ohio Six sophomores, four juniors and a lone senior will start for Purdue Ohio will offer 4 seniors, 4 juniors and 3 sophomores in the starting roles

Five Ohioans are expected to see action with Purdue They are John Allen of Fremont and Glenn Knecht of Cincinnati, second and third centers, respectively, behind Walter Cudzik of Chicago, only senior starter; Walter Houston of Massillon and Russ Addison of Alliance, first line guard replacements, and Dave Whiteaker of Toledo, second team tackle

Brown Expects Toughest Test Against 49ers

CLEVELAND (AP) — "They have the guns to be the thoughest so far—the best balance of any team we play." Coach Paul Brown says of the San Francisco 49ers who assault his Cleveland Browns unbeaten pro football record here Sunday.

"That fullback, Joe Perry, doesn't lead the league for nothing," Brown worried. "Their set of running backs is about the best. And that (Yelburton Abraham) Tittle can throw the ball with men all over him better than anyone in the league "

Coach Buck Shaw agrees his 49ers are good—in fact, he thinks they should have a record of seven straight victories to match the Browns' string. The broken cheek bone Tittle suffered in the first Detroit game was blamed by Shaw for the two losses that have thrown San Francisco into a tie with Los Angeles and Detroit for the lead in the National Football League's Western Division.

The Browns' fine defensive unit, which has limited opponents to an average of only 7½ points a game, will be hampered by leg injuries that caused tackle Derrell Palmer, Halfback Tommy James and linebacker Tommy Thompson to miss the first two days of practice this week.

Except for Otto Graham, heading for the best season of eight as a pro and the league's leading passer in yardage (1,603) and completion percentage (64), the Browns have only tackle Lou (The Toe) Groza among the loop's pace-setters. Groza's 57 points, including 12 field goals in 14 tries, make him top individual NFL scorer.

Irish Shooting for Crown In Finale at Elm Valley

Fourteen seniors will windup their high school football careers tonight when St. Mary travels to Elm Valley for the season finale.

The seniors will have added incentives for winning their last game. Victory tonight will give the Irish sole possession of the Mid-Ohio title and what would amount to their best season since they went undefeated just 10 years ago. It would mean a 7-1 record.

Some of the seniors might be sitting out their final game

Ryan pulled a leg muscle in Monday's practice and although Robbins expects he will be ready to go, it s not definite. Ryan is the squad's top ground-gainer and scorer. He has lugged the ball 65 times for 384 yards, an average of 5.9 yards per carry, and tallied six touchdowns for the Irish.

Robbins also has Shoemaker on the doubtful list with the foot injury that kept him out of the Mansfield Madison tilt.

Merchant definitely will be on the bench where he has been sitting since he pulled a ligament in the opener against Cardington.

Elm Valley Coach Ken Paul reports that his squad should be at peak strength for the contest The Aces will be out to score a victory tonight that would give them a .500 season record At present their record stands at 3-4.

Robbins plans to start his regular lineup that includes O'Connor and Shoemaker on the ends, Quinn and John Kelly at the tackles Campton and Ballenger at the guards, and Schnitzler at center.

Running in the backfield will be Roger Michels at quarter, Ryan at full, and Anderson and either Kilbury or Johnny Messenger in the halfback slots.

If Ryan can't go tonight, Kilbury will move over to full, or Jack Spangler will take over at that spot O'Keeffe will fill in for Shoemaker if he isn't ready by game time.

Starting for Elm Valley will be Ron Campbell and John Humes at the ends, Lee Goodman and John Stein at the tackles, Dick Masters and Phil Ingmire at the guards, and Eugene Borden at center. In the backfield ... will probably be Walt Borchers at quarterback, Bob Carrans and Ed Van Ausdale at the halves and Fred Reid at full

Elm Valley will have a weight advantage on the Irish. The Aces average 179 in the line and 153 in the backfield for a team average of 170 On the average St. Mary weighs in at 163 in the line 154 in the backfield and 159 on the whole

Bucyrus Entertains Defiance in Finale

BUCYRUS—Bucyrus High' Redmen windup their season here tonight against undefeated Defiance High in the first meeting between the two schools. In years past, Bucyrus concluded its season in a non-league encounter with Mansfield Madison

Bucyrus will be seeking its fourth win in nine starts while Defiance chalked up seven straight victories before being held to a scoreless tie last week by Toledo Macomber.

In the starting line-up for Bucyrus will be eight seniors. They include Backs Glen Butterman, Tom Smith and Bud Armstrong; Guards Jerry Kenefake and Forest Rowe; Tackle Ron Yoassy, Center Bob Stauffer and End Dick Rehm. Bob Seele, a sophomore back, Tackle Ned Bibler and End Harold Weithman, both juniors, complete the starting eleven Defiance, which has 10 seniors in the starting line-up is headed by Gene Baldwin, a flashy halfback.

Radio and Television

By John Crosby

Time for Thought

It's all very well for us to criticize what is on the air, an occupation that is becoming increasingly barren But what is far more important, as time goes on is to examine in some measure what should be on the air what is lacking

J. CROSBY

This is asking quite a lot of a critic So far as I know critics since time immemorial have been required simply to assess what's in front of them not to go off baying at the moon at what might have been But then critics never before had to contend with broadcasting a field that resists ideas with illimitable savagery.

NOT LONG AGO Robert Saudek director of the radio - TV workshop of the Ford Foundation delivered himself of some high grade discontent on the same subject "It disturbs me" said Saudek who as been in radio as well as television "when riding in a commuter s train I hear two young television salesmen sitting behind me and discussing this enormous new business in exactly the same terms that radio salesmen used in the same commuter train 20 years ago

"Where are the inventive minds? Where are the original ways of doing business? Why should television one of the newest, shiniest most glamorous callings of the 20th century be lagging so far behind aviation for instance, which has in the past 20 years moved from the fabric-covered biplane through the DC-3 and the Constellation to the turbo - prop and now the jet-propelled aircraft? "

Why, indeed?

"NOTHING INTERESTING has happened to radio and television scheduling since the Hoover administration " declared Saudek There is a program manager a script editor a production manager, a traffic manager and announcing staff There always was This group has charge of a big basket that contains a disorderly assortment of half hours quarter hours and minutes starting in the early hours and ending late at night It is disorderly because there is no pattern to it there is no logic to it there is no plan behind it there is no danger to it

"Just suppose for a minute that the four television networks decided they would be a wayward bus, as far away from today s program pattern as 1963 is far from today. Suppose each network decided to create a clearly identifiable character for itself. Suppose Network A were to become The Saturday Evening Post of television, Network B were to think of its schedule in terms of the editorial approach of Life magazine Network C and D might choose to be The Reader s Digest and Ladies Home Journal?"

SAUDEK CONCEDES that might not be the best pattern for TV to follow but he throws it out simply as a different pattern, as a sort of bomb to unsettle the already rigid behavior pattern TV programming

It is as I see it a plea for somebody to do some thinking on what television should do. Practically nobody is Television an electronic miracle that could hardly miss is being allowed to develop by accident

It wasn't always this way In the early days of TV there was a lot of intensive thinking largely because there wasn t any money When money entered, thought fled Today it's hard to find a single constructive idea bruited about The air is alive with self - congratulation because (a) the money is rolling in (b) the audience is huge and growing (And presumably, satisfied)

BUT SAUDEK POINTS OUT that television is eating its best people alive by demanding too much of them too often that TV has done nothing toward establishing a farm system where young talents can develop before taking on the big time

Youngsters he feels should have a chance to serve an apprenticeship under some of the established masters just as young painters served under the greatest artists in Renaissance days As someone said recently the actor today has no place to be lousy any more — no cellars no barns— only wide screen television where his mistakes are on view to millions

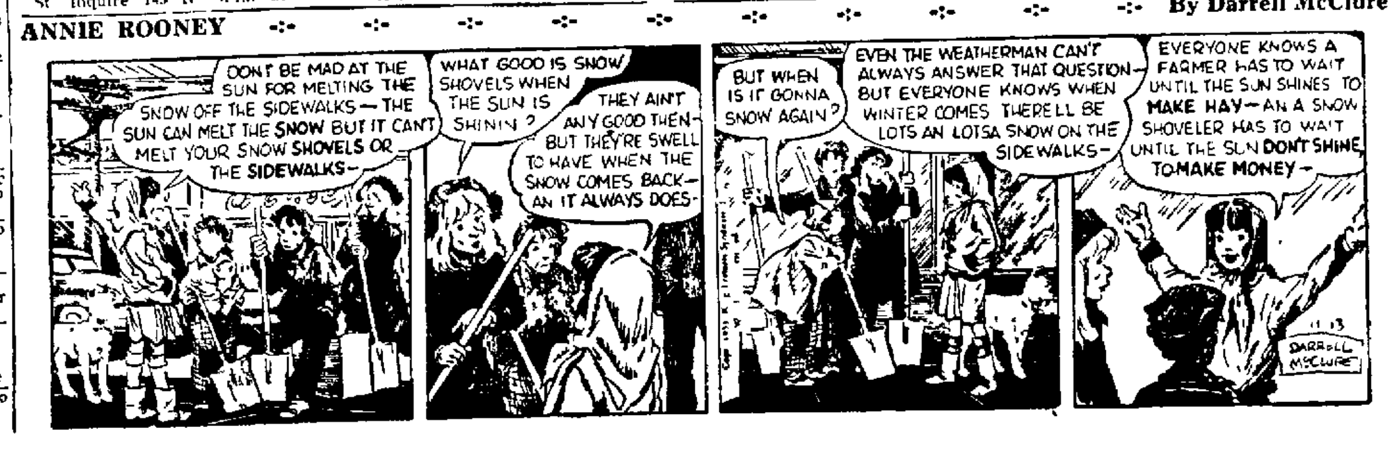
ANNIE ROONEY By Darrell McClure



DON'T BE MAD AT THE SUN FOR MELTING THE SNOW OFF THE SIDEWALKS — THE SUN CAN MELT THE SNOW BUT IT CAN'T MELT YOUR SNOW SHOVELS OR THE SIDEWALKS—
WHAT GOOD IS SNOW SHOVELS WHEN THE SUN IS SHININ'?
THEY AIN'T ANY GOOD THEN—BUT THEY'RE SWELL TO HAVE WHEN THE SNOW COMES BACK—AN IT ALWAYS DOES—
BUT WHEN IS IT GONNA SNOW AGAIN?
EVEN THE WEATHERMAN CAN'T ALWAYS ANSWER THAT QUESTION—BUT EVERYONE KNOWS WHEN WINTER COMES THERE'LL BE LOTS AN LOTSA SNOW ON THE SIDEWALKS—
EVERYONE KNOWS A FARMER HAS TO WAIT UNTIL THE SUN SHINES TO MAKE HAY—AN A SNOW SHOVELER HAS TO WAIT UNTIL THE SUN DON'T SHINE, TO MAKE MONEY—

MRS. HALL! HOLLY! ARE YOU BOTH ALL RIGHT?
GREAT DAY, YES, MR. CANYON! WHAT WOULD WE HAVE DONE IF YOU HADN'T BEEN ALONG TO LOOK AFTER US?

YOU WEREN'T ASLEEP, WERE YOU, MOTHER, DEAR?
NO, HOLLY... I KEEP THINKING ABOUT YOUR POOR DADDY. ALL HIS OTHER PROBLEMS—AND NOW HE'LL BE OUT OF HIS MIND, WORRYING ABOUT US!
MR. CANYON WILL SEE US THROUGH ANYTHING THAT HAPPENS! I JUST FEEL IT!
BUT STEVE DOESN'T EVEN KNOW OF ONE DANGER THEY FACE AT THIS MOMENT A CHILD IN THE VILLAGE STIRS IN ITS SLEEP AS ITS TEMPERATURE CLIMBS TO FEVER LEVEL

Solution of Yesterday's Puzzle

Relics of Ancient Visit Turn Up in Alaskan Ice

WASHINGTON (UP) — A few fragments are all that remain of one of North America's earliest ports of entry which existed in an Alaskan coastal valley 8 000 years ago

In a report released by the Smithsonian Institution, geologists announced discovery of spearheads, knives and primitive engraving tools characteristic of those of the first known occupants of the North American continent

There is substantial proof that these first inhabitants came from Asia to North America by way of Alaska But they bear no relation to the Eskimos who are relatively late arrivals.

The distribution of the artifacts found indicates that the Alaskan valley site may have been used as a base for long hunting trips or as a bivouac repeatedly reoccupied

The first artifacts characteristic of Eskimo culture appeared about 2 000 years ago or approximately 50 B C

LIGHTING SAFETY

CHICAGO (UP)—Mercury vapor street lighting systems increase traffic safety the American Public Works Association reports The association found in a survey of 276 cities with the lighting systems that virtually all reported they helped cut down traffic accidents
